Huge Airbase Is Again Completely In Control Of American Troops

MANILA NOW ONLY 40 MILES AWAY

(BULLETIN)
GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS ON LUZON, Philippines, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Yank patrols lanced southward today from captured Clark field to Angeles, placing the advance American units approximately 35 air miles from Manila on the 65th birthday of General MacArthur and the 64th birthday of Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger.

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS ON LUZON, Jan. 26.—Clark Field and its network of 12 big airstrips were in the hands of American troops today, clearing the way for Gen. Douglas MacArthur to throw the full might of his air strength against Manila and other Jap strongholds on Luzon and opening a possible new avenue of attack on Tokyo by B-29 Superforts.

Capture of Clark field, together with the fall of Fort Stotsenburg to troops of the 14th Corps was announced in today's communique by General MacArthur as he marked his 65th birthday.

Yank patrols entered the field early Thursday, it was disclosed, after isolated fighting and other spearhead units plunged onward another five miles, cutting the distance to Manila to less than 40 miles by air.

PA NEWC Observes

Just a year ago today, we were enjoying some rather balmy weather, the highest temperature from the 25th to the 28 of January ranging between 57 and 64 degrees. Just one or two days of that would be quite a respite right now.

This hits a new high in being rugged. Two people who like plenty of fresh air while they are sleeping left both bedroom windows open several nights ago. Although they slept comfortably at first, they woke up to find a large begonia frozen quite dead. The worst part is, the begonia belongs to the landlady.

Several motorists have commented to PA Newc that there are some drivers that seem to believe that they have the right of way in the center of the road when meeting a car coming from the opposite direction. On some streets and highways the center of the road is bare of snow and ice and these drivers appear to think that they are entitled to all of it regardless of other drivers. Probably thoughtlessness on their part, but such an attitude can develop traffic accidents.

Nurses Moving Into New Home

Former Jameson Home On N. Jefferson Street Occupied By Hospital Nurses

FORTY-FOUR CAN BE ACCOMMODATED

Although the work of furnishing the home is not entirely completed, nurses of the Jameson Memorial hospital are moving into the old North Jefferson street and Lincoln avenue which has been converted into a nurses' home. The bedrooms are furnished, but some pieces for the social rooms on the first floor are yet to be received.

Some time ago the board of directors of the hospital were given the old homestead by Mrs. Elizabeth Jameson McCrory, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Jameson, donors of the hospital and the nurses' home adjoining the hospital. The directors immediately decided to use the homestead for an additional nurses' home in order to relieve congestion in the home on Wilmington avenue.

To House Forty Four
Forty four nurses can be accommodated in the remodeled home. The first floor is given over to two parlors, a dietetic room, a seminar and a snack bar. The second and third floor rooms have been made into sleeping rooms and additional toilet facilities added. The work of fitting the home with drapes, curtains and the like will be done by the women of the hospital guild.

Situation In China Better Says Nelson

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—President Roosevelt's special economic trouble-shooter to China, former WPB Chief Donald M. Nelson, today presented a highly optimistic report to the White House revealing considerable improvement in China's internal and military structure as a result of American aid.

Nelson disclosed that the special U. S. economic mission, including Ambassador Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, which Mr. Roosevelt sent to China last fall had succeeded in increasing the nation's industrial capacity under the supervision of a new Chinese war production board.

Nelson declared that on his first visit to Chungking last September he was "disturbed by the relative lack of constructive war effort."

"This situation, I am glad to report, has been largely corrected," Nelson said. "China's government is now throwing its weight into the job of winning the war."

Total Of 108 Persons Drop In On Family As Surprise Guests

Farm Family Near Rochester, N. Y., Has Huge Unexpected List Of Visitors

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 26.—(INS)—If Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ehrmentraut were still a bit on the exhausted side today, don't blame them. You'd probably feel the same way if you had 108—yes 108 by actual count—guests wander in out of a blizzard and ask for food and shelter for the night.

The Ehrmentrauts have a nine-room farmhouse on a hill 15 miles from Rochester. Just as they and their two children sat down to dinner Wednesday evening, two men, shivering in the eight below zero cold, rapped at the door, explained their car had been stalled and asked for shelter.

Ten minutes later came a truck driver who said he got stuck behind the first car. And from then on in, every two or three minutes brought more stranded travelers until by 11 o'clock there were 108 all told—and all were hungry, too," said Mrs. Ehrmentraut.

She said they ate in relays, and cleaned up almost everything in the house. Then someone remembered that a food truck had been stalled on the road, and from there some of the men obtained three cases of soup and a case of corn flakes. Sleeping posed another problem, but they managed by utilizing all the beds, chairs and floor space. One bed broke down when a stout lady crawled in with three of her women companions.

In the morning the farmer and the men used a tractor to break the logjam. The last guest departed late yesterday afternoon—and that's why the Ehrmentrauts might still have been a bit exhausted today.

U. S. Seventh Army Checks New German Offensive Aimed At Strasbourg

NAZIS HURLED BACK AT SOME POINTS

By THURSTON MACAULEY

PARIS, Jan. 26.—The determination of American forces that "They shall not pass" today halted the new German offensive aimed at Strasbourg in its tracks.

The Nazis were hurled back at several points in stiff battling.

A supreme headquarters spokesman declared that the powerful German drive, in which at least seven enemy divisions were involved, has been stopped, momentarily at least, by the United States Seventh Army.

Regain Some Ground
The Yanks under command of Lieut. Gen. Alexander M. Patch regained some ground previously lost to the enemy forces which at one point struck across the Moder river west of Haguenau.

American counter attacks drove the Germans out of part of two wooded areas, the forests of Uhwiller and Ollingen situated west of Haguenau.

The deepest German penetration of over a mile was scored in an enemy drive to Schillersdorf where the Nazis were stopped and then thrown back.

The Mediterranean Air Force flew more than 500 sorties and knocked out five enemy planes.

Four Allied craft are missing. Allied patrols on the Fifth Army front beat off two enemy raids at Querciola and clashed with enemy parties elsewhere in patrol clashes as winter conditions continued to restrict ground operations. Patrol combats were also reported along the Eighth Army front.

Germans Describe Assault As Move To Iron Out Nazi Bulge

SEVERAL TOWNS FALL TO YANKS

PARIS, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Allied armies in western Europe leaped over to the attack on three fronts today, hurling the Nazis back across the Roer river in the north, blunting the remaining tip of the Ardennes salient in the center, and re-winning lost terrain in the south-east.

By THURSTON MACAULEY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Jan. 26.—American assault forces launched a powerful attack against the center of the Ardennes salient today in what the Germans described as a drive to iron out the Nazi bulge.

The German DNB agency reported that the American attack, preceded by heavy artillery bombardment, was concentrated against the area of St. Vith and Houffalize in the Belgian bulge and added that U. S. troops had captured "several villages."

Towns Taken
A dispatch from the U. S. First Army front said that American forces captured the towns of Amel and Mirefield, both about six miles northeast of St. Vith at the northern end of the Ardennes front, while (Continued on Page Two)

Committee Plans Future Collections

Dates For Paper Collections In February, March And April Set Thursday

Arrangements were made Thursday for the waste paper collection in New Castle for the next three months, when the Paper Salvage committee met with Chairman Joseph A. Hartman in the Elks' club at noon.

The results of the January collection were discussed and the committee felt a good job had been done. The February collection was set for Saturday, February 17, the March collection for Saturday, March 24, and the April collection for Saturday, April 21.

In order to have a more complete record of the proceedings of the committee meetings, Mrs. Paul A. Forcey was elected secretary. Several changes in policy will be discussed and will be taken up with the chairman of the Office of Civilian Defense, County Commissioner Earl R. Vimer. The salvage committee is a branch of the OCD and any policies adopted must clear through the county commissioners' office.

Glaring Weakness In Manpower Plans Charged By C.I.O.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 26.—The national executive board of the UAW-CIO meeting in New Orleans accused the War department today of "glaring weakness in manpower planning."

A resolution adopted unanimously by the board demanded the selective service "immediately halt inductions of men from occupations where manpower shortages exist."

"The recently adopted policy of the War department of furloughing soldiers to take jobs in war plants reveals a glaring weakness in our manpower planning," the resolution charges, "and it is a wasteful and ineffective way to meet present manpower shortages."

Allies Beyond Starting Point Of Bulge Drive

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Allied forces have cut and bypassed at several places the line from which Gen. Karl Gerd von Rundstedt launched his Ardennes offensive, Brussels radio said today.

At the same time Luxembourg radio announced that Gen. Jean de Latre de Tassigny's First French army had opened an attack on a large German pocket north of Mulhouse, in the German Comar Bulge, below Strasbourg.

Brandenburg Province Under Direct Threat Of Soviet Invasion

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(International News Service Foreign Editor)

The Province of Brandenburg, cold hard core of Prussian imperialism, birthplace of German tyranny, autocracy and reactionary imperialism, came under direct threat of Soviet invasion today.

Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin's virtually unchecked offensive, which already has cut off East Prussia and inundated vast areas of German Silesia in a Red wave of occupation and expunction of Nazi power, rolled noisily to the Brandenburg frontier, the Germans admitted.

If this is true the tidal wave of Russian attack has bypassed the great Nazi stronghold of Posen in Poland and has seared to within 91 miles of Berlin—with the city of Frankfurt on the Oder now the last remaining fortress city of importance between the frontier and Germany's bomb-blasted, nerve-stricken capital.

Mounting Threat To Berlin
Dispatches from Moscow and Berlin both emphasized the steadily mounting threat to Berlin and as the German high command called on 16-year-old boys to present themselves as candidates for official (Continued on Page Two)

Terrific Attack By Big Guns Of Warships On Jap Island Base

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD A UNITED STATES BATTLESHIP OFF IWO JIMA, (Volcano Islands) Jan. 24.—(Delayed)—(Via Navy Radio)—Geysers of smoke, flame and debris from shore installations and shipping spiraled skyward today above Iwo Jima as the Jap island reverberated under the heaviest bombardment of the war from guns of this battleship and other warships.

Sixteen-inch battleship guns, eight-inch rifles of the cruisers, and five-inch guns of destroyers moved into Tokyo's frontyard, raking airfields and shore installations. In addition to damage to enemy installations, the destroyers also blew up a thousand-ton Jap cargo ship and probably destroyed two others, totaling three thousand tons.

The commander of the task group said he was well satisfied with results.

Well Satisfied
"I was well satisfied with the results of the bombardment," he declared. "All primary targets were pinpointed."

He explained the meager enemy air and coastal gunfire opposition by the fact that the flotilla achieved surprise, not being discovered until we were within sight of the island. Opposition consisted of one torpedo plane which was shot down and meager coastal gunfire. This was considered amazing in view of the fact that Iwo is less than 700 miles from Tokyo.

The assault was co-ordinated with strikes by Liberators and Superfortresses. Previous warship bombardments (Continued on Page Two)

Fled In Haste
Fleeing Germans did not take time to blow up war factories in Lodz or Czesstohowa, and in the latter city some 5,000 Jews escaped annihilation because the Germans needed them as war workers. Other Jews now are coming out from underground hiding, Modzelevski said.

The Polish ambassador said that urgent relief was needed for these people and for the shelterless population of Warsaw.

He said that the Soviet government had promised that Poland will get help—food and fats for food and trucks and cranes for cleaning away the debris of Warsaw. Prefabricated houses were also promised.

But a lot more, Modzelevski said, is needed. Because of a lack of medicines and serums, there is a danger of epidemics.

Foreign correspondents will be allowed to make a trip to Warsaw as soon as possible, he added.

Red Columns Seek To Sever Rail Line From Koenigsberg To Berlin

SOVIET PAPER SAYS NAZI DEFENSE CRACKS

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Jan. 26.—Giant Russian tank columns reportedly hammered at crumbling Nazi defense lines in the vicinity of the Brandenburg frontier today after apparently by-passing the bastion city of Posen (Poznan) and opening a direct route to Frankfurt on the Oder.

German DNB agency dispatches reported the Russian vanguards near the boundaries of Brandenburg—home province of Berlin, another 91 miles westward—at the same time as other enemy outlets warned the home front that East Prussia has been isolated.

To reach Brandenburg, the Reds apparently swept around both sides of Posen, leaving that bastion to be mopped up at their leisure, and left only Frankfurt as a formidable point before Berlin is reached. Frankfurt is less than 50 miles from Berlin.

DNB warned that Red columns to the north are attempting to sever the main rail line connecting Berlin with Koenigsberg, capital of East Prussia which the enemy said has been cut off by Soviet divisions which reached the area of the Baltic near Elbing.

Battle For Breslau
In Silesia, the battle for Breslau reached a new peak of ferocity, with the Russians opening a paralyzing artillery fire in apparent preparation for a bid to cross the Oder at several key points.

It was accompanied by another savage tank engagement between the cities of Gleiwitz and Hindenburg to the southeast of Breslau in industrial Silesia.

(A Reuters dispatch from Moscow reported without confirmation that the Russians had crossed the Warthe river north of Posen. The dispatch said this indicated that the Russians were beginning a drive on Frankfurt on the Oder, last defense bastion on the road to Berlin.)

Claim Breslau Now Evacuated

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Berlin home radio, heard by NBC, told its listeners today that the streets and buildings of Breslau are empty, with some 300,000 old people, women and children evacuated during the last few days.

Water and electricity plants still are working and street cars are running. Last night explosions could be heard, the announcer said, indicating that important factories and installations might have been blown up.

Report $1,050 Of $1,080 Taken From Home Recovered

Police Chief Robert D. Hanna today reported that Detectives Chief W. G. McMullen and Detectives Thomas Lynch and John Moore had informed him of the recovery of $1,050, of $1,080, reportedly stolen from the home of Mrs. Nancy Barone, 413 Electric street, January 14, evening. James Moses, 14, 514 Lyndal street, admitted the theft, it was reported. He with two other young boys have been detained by authorities.

According to the police report, city detectives when notified by Mrs. Barone of the theft from a cedar chest asked her to try and recall who had visited her home during the past two weeks.

She remembered James Moses had been there January 14 and had supper with the Barone family. While upstairs, he looked into a cedar chest, saw a paper bag and shoved it into a pocket, police say.

Mrs. Barone visited young Moses last night. He reportedly confessed taking the money which he said amounted to $1,080 and taking it to school with him.

Pending an opportunity to return the money Moses reportedly said he kept the money in his unlocked desk at Ben Franklin junior high.

Detectives were notified today and they obtained, they told Chief Hanna, a full confession of the reported theft.

One boy who knew Moses had a lot of money threatened to tell, he was bribed to silence with $21, police say. Another got $5.00, it was said, Moses stated he spent the remainder of the $30 missing from $1,080, allegedly stolen.

City firemen were called to the plant of the Bowman Manufacturing company on Moravia street just before noon today, where it was found some rubbish, on fire outside the building, set fire to the side of the building. Damage of around $25 was done. Fire Chief James E. Thomas reported.

At 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon firemen were summoned to the Hawaiian Gardens, 11 West Long avenue, where a small fire caused damage of around $50.

BRANDENBURG UNDER DIRECT THREAT

cers' posts in the depleted Nazi armies, the Nazi radio warned its people that "we must be prepared for more disappointments."

"We don't want to gloss over the seriousness of our position," a broadcast said.

"Our very existence is at stake." Gravity of the threat to Berlin was underlined by the Germans' apparent inability to create any new stable line of defense.

No Confirmation
Moscow did not confirm that the Brandenburg frontier already has been reached by Soviet spearheads.

But there seemed little reason to doubt that steel-tipped vanguards had swept north and south of Posen in co-ordination with a violent pinners movement against the Silesian industrial capital of Breslau to the south, to set in motion a direct frontal attack upon Berlin from the east.

Russians were known to be massing along the Oder for a full-scale crossing and German positions on the western bank were kept under a pulverizing barrage of artillery fire.

Heaviest fighting on the German home front raged in and around Breslau, which the Nazis were attempting desperately to hold with the aid of vastly augmented forces.

No new developments were reported from the East Prussian front following Germany's admission that Soviet troops had lunged through to the Baltic sea between Elbing and Koeningberg, virtually detaching this huge appendage of the Reich from the main body of the fatherland and possibly isolating German forces totalling between 200,000 and 300,000 men.

In numerous areas of Germany proper, the Nazis were reported to have fled westward across the Oder and were endeavoring to erect emergency defenses despite the avalanche of Russian artillery fire hurled at them.

important undamaged industrial area, and has cut off all important supplies of coal. At the same time, American forces are pounding at Germany's other important source of coal, the Ruhr valley.

2. Officers of the Wehrmacht are now running the war, instead of Hitler, which means a less fanatical and more realistic command.

3. Living conditions are more severe than the German people have ever known in modern times. A fear of the onrushing "Bolshevik horde" has shaken morale throughout the country.

On the other hand, officials pointed out that the rigid control of Himmler and his SS men tends to prevent outbreaks, while Propaganda Minister Goebbels is driving hard on the theme that, with unconditional surrender, peace would be worse than war.

The 1,475-mile-long "Big Inch" pipeline moves about 177,000 barrels of petroleum products daily from Texas to New Jersey.

GERMAN DRIVE IN STRASBOURG SECTOR HALTED BY YANKS

one half miles northwest of Diedermoden engulfed Kindwiller, but an American counter-attack stopped the Germans on this sector dead in their tracks. Later part of the town was cleared of the Nazis.

Hurl Germans Back

The Yanks concentrated on hurling the Germans back across the Moder but latest reports said the Nazis still clung to positions in the area of the bridgehead established by the enemy after three tries.

The Nazis threw three panzer divisions, two infantry divisions, a parachute division and the sixth SS Mountain division into the attack obviously aimed at recapturing Strasbourg. This major effort by Nazi Field Marshal Karl Gerd Von Rundstedt on the western front was seen as a maneuver to divert the minds of the German people from the eastern front and an effort to make up for the failure of his Ardennes salient drive.

Headquarters disclosed officially that American troops, operating under First French army command, are taking part in the attack against the Germans north of Colmar to check the enemy threat to Strasbourg from the south.

Stiff Fighting

Stiff fighting continued north of Colmar and along the southern edge of the Colmar sector, where little change in the situation was reported.

After halting the German penetration into their positions in the Schillersdorf area, the American Seventh army forces restored their lines farther to the east.

West of Haguenau the Yanks struck back to retake part of the woods between Schweighausen and Neuburg and from there began forcing the fanatically resisting Germans back across the Moder river. Three attempts had been made by the Germans to force the Moder, and one succeeded.

To the east of Haguenau the Yanks fully restored their lines.

The assault against the Seventh army was developed on a large-scale by three Nazi Panzer divisions, the Seventh Parachute division and two infantry divisions. In an initial gain of up to 2,000 yards, the Germans captured the town of Mulhouse.

Headquarters said that the heaviest pressure was being maintained by the enemy in the Bischofs-Schillersdorf area, while to the east of Haguenau all of the enemy blows were contained.

In battle action below Strasbourg the Germans reacted strongly to continued attacks by the French First army north and south of Colmar, with the French scoring new slight gains north of Colmar.

SAYS NELSON

discussions with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and other Chinese leaders, he explained, Nelson emphasized, however, that if present plans are followed through they "will make for close post-war economic relations between China and the United States."

Has Capacity

"China has the capacity and the desire to develop herself industrially with American aid," Nelson said. "If that aid is realistically planned, and if financial arrangements are put on a sound business basis, China should soon after the war begin to replace Japan as the leading industrial nation of the Orient."

"In that event, a market of enormous size should progressively open up for American export industries. I believe, too, that with American guidance, China's development can be turned into peaceful and Democratic channels, eliminating much of the fear of war which has for so long shaped political attitudes in the Orient and South Pacific."

Nelson reported establishment of the new Chinese WPB with a loan of ten billion Chinese dollars by four Chinese government banks to finance production. Six American production specialists in steel and aircraft production are remaining in China to supervise production which, Nelson said, has already increased materially.

"For the first time, the Chinese economic war effort is now coordinated," he told the president.

Nelson also reported that the military situation in the war with Japan has improved considerably. He also disclosed that the recent opening of the Ledo-Burma road and the new Calcutta-Kunming pipeline, the longest in the world, "will greatly strengthen the supply situation."

Nelson was also optimistic about the possibility of cooperation between the national government of China and the Communists.

Churchill More Than Politician

LONDON, Jan. 26.—When he stands before his critics in the House of Commons, Prime Minister Churchill is a consummate politician, and more than a politician.

You feel, as you watch him, that he has made himself, in a most primitive sense, leader of his tribe. It goes deeper than ordinary politics and it may be the reason why he will probably sweep the first election to be held after the end of the European war.

Over any opposition, of course, he has almost overwhelming advantages. There is first of all the great weight of his prestige as the savior of Britain in time of trial. Gratitude growing out of that role could well be a decisive factor in the first post-war test.

Then there is his pugnacity—yes, his arrogance. He is a master of the political strategy based on attack, attack, attack. Add to this his skill and long experience in the rough and tumble of parliamentary debate and you come to see why so few are willing to cross swords with him, even though they may oppose his views.

Watching him in recent debates, you get a sense of the tribal chief breathing defiance challenge at small band of rebels. Standing in the well of the house, he glared across at left-wing laborites on the benches opposite him, challenging them to come out and fight.

Never in Better Form

Those who have followed his career through the years agree that he was probably never in better form. Irony, scorn, invective, ridicule—all these weapons he used to the fullest extent. In clarity and force of enunciation, he could have been a man twenty years younger. He was the old warrior at the top of his stride.

As he has done so often in the past, he threw in what in America we call Fourth of July oratory, involving the Union Jack and the White Cliffs of Dover. No one can do that so well as Churchill, who seems to embody in his short, stocky figure all that we have come to think of as British.

His jaw juts out as he catches the eye of William Gallagher, only Communist member of the House, who has so often braved the Churchill wrath. He clenches his fists and brings them down in emphasis on the black dispatch box before him.

The Churchill technique is interesting. On the dispatch box before him, he has small notebook-size sheets of paper, on each of which are typewritten three or four brief paragraphs. Obviously familiar with his text, he speaks it almost as though he were speaking extemporaneously, and he frequently interjects.

The reaction of the country to his speech is hard for an outsider to gauge. Support came from sources that previously had been critical, notably the London Times. In the speech, Churchill gave the Times a verbal spanking, and the Conservatives roared loudest approval of any point he made. Yet the Times' editorial, headed "Dangers of Disunity," the editorial referred to "widespread misunderstanding" about conditions in Greece, misunderstanding which presumably was the reason for the Times' criticism of the government at the beginning of the Greek crisis.

There is, incidentally, a strong feeling of Times "disloyalty." The liberal viewpoint which it has expressed in recent years is taken by some Conservatives as a violation of ancient and holy tradition. "It's the Daily Worker in a boiled shirt," a Conservative M. P. said to me.

It's hard to judge small signs one comes across. A waiter in my hotel was anxious first to learn my opinion on the Churchill speech, and then said and his friends didn't like it at all.

Certainly, the feeling on Greece went deep down. The situation could hardly have been saved if Churchill and Eden had not flown to Athens. One source of Churchill's strength is that he acted with real characteristic boldness, flying off to Athens in the face of real danger at a time when most people were thinking of their Christmas holidays.

The whole situation seems to have been badly handled from the beginning, particularly on the information side. British information about the strength of ELAS was way off the mark.

The picture, as first presented, was optimistic. It is not a simple choice between right and wrong. Greek excesses can be traced back to the savage repressions of the Metaxas dictatorship.

What served more than anything to quiet the storm was the overriding need for unity when Churchill attends the Big Three meeting. Temporarily, at least, Britons have closed ranks. But that does not mean an end to disunity.

LAUGH AND GROW FAT

Old sayings usually condense the wisdom of centuries into a few words.

Laughter and fun seem to aid digestion. If people could have good cheer at meal time, the food would perhaps do more good.

There is so much worry in the world that it is sometimes pretty hard to be merry.

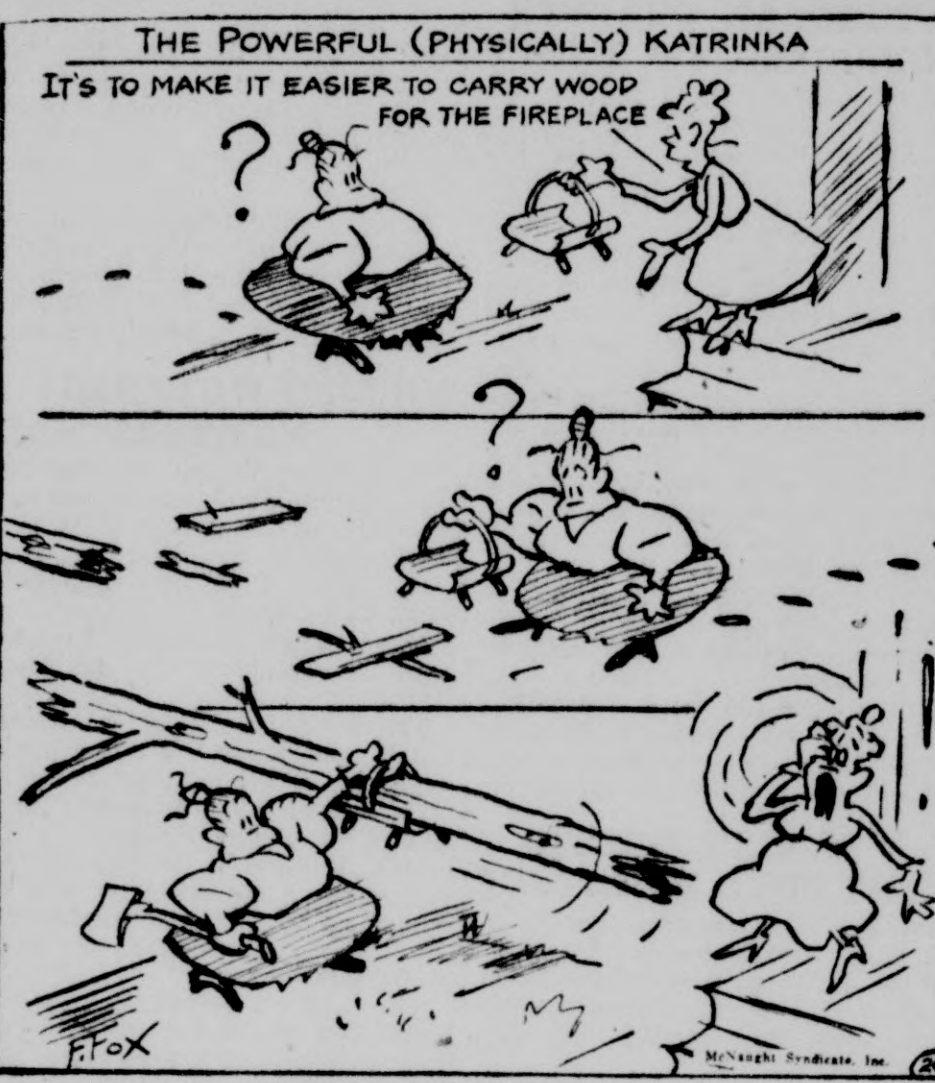

A sense of humor is an asset to any one.

If possible, meal time should be cheerful. At its worst, life is pretty good. There is a lot of kindness and helpfulness in the world yet.

It is a fine thing to have something to eat, cheer up and live.

ADAPT YOURSELF TO YOUR ENVIRONMENT

"Having recently been graduated from college, I have taken a position in a large organization employing people of all classes and several nationalities. The management has grouped us into one social club and I know that my co-workers are criticizing me for not conforming more thoroughly with certain elements that I find uncongenial mentally or temperamentally. Do you not think I am acting entirely within my rights by choosing my own particular group with whom to be friendly?"

Answer: You would be acting entirely within your rights should you stand on your head at these gatherings, but would you be acting wisely? Regardless of your race or class or ambition, one of your first duties is yourself is to so adapt yourself to your environment that you will never be self-conscious or ill-at-ease in any gathering. It is the acid test of good manners to feel equally at home among city folk or country folk, laborers or rulers, sailors or soldiers, Caucasians, Mongolians, Malays or Polynesians.

The girl of the streets who marries a rich gambler will abhor and snub a community of modest backwood people; whereas a princess traveling incognito will delight in their society. It is the same psychology that makes the beggar maid yearn to play the princess and the princess to play the beggar maid at a masquerade. All of which reminds me of the king who when entertaining a backwood politician at dinner noted that he slipped his coffee from his saucer, thus making the surrounding courtiers snigger until the king rebuked them by drinking from his own saucer. But I hope you will have better luck with this lesson than a man I know who, after learning it, breakfasted at the White House with Calvin Coolidge and was amazed to see the President thus pour his coffee into his saucer. To put Mr. Coolidge at his ease, the guest thus poured out his own coffee only to suffer dismay when the President gave him his dog.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THAT "ATLANTIC CHARTER"

On August 25, 1943, President Roosevelt made an address to the Canadian Parliament. It was a fighting speech, declaring America's intention to smash "gangsterism" throughout the world and free the peoples of the earth forever from aggression. In the same address Mr. Roosevelt took occasion to lash his domestic critics unnamed as usual. His climax came in his expression of "everlasting anger" at "Americans who have questioned the Atlantic Charter."

A few days ago Mr. Roosevelt, with a great show of hilarity, astounded his press conferees by stating that searchers after copies of this idealistic proclamation would not find it, because there never was such a document as the Atlantic Charter. He explained that his famous pronouncement, which he likened to the Magna Carta, was merely a set of notes and suggestions to which Mr. Churchill and himself had verbally agreed.

About the time the President was expressing his "everlasting anger" at critics (also unnamed, as usual) of the Charter, the OWI was carrying on a campaign of propaganda extolling its merits and urging speakers and commentators to analyze and expound it for the edification of the public.

It is true, of course, that the principles of the Atlantic Charter can exist in the minds of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill and that they can be accepted in the minds of the American people. So far as we know, these principles have never been questioned—much less criticized—by any conspicuous American.

The one criticism that is heard, however, concerns the apparent abandonment of the Charter principles by our Allies—and our own seeming acquiescence in the abandonment. What most Americans would like to know about it is expressed in the topical song, "Is You Is, Or Is You Ain't?"

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

YOUR FIRST WEIGHT AND HOW IT GROWS

Though you were present, you may not remember much about your early infancy. Let me tell you something about yourself. If you were average, you weighed at birth about seven and one-half pounds, less if a girl, more if not a girl. Right after birth you lose some weight, regaining all of it in about two weeks. You doubled your weight in five months. And what if that should happen now? You tripled your birth weight in a year.

In the second year of your life you gained half a pound a month—sometimes this happens to you now. And from your third to sixth year you put on about five pounds annually—mere items you probably forgot. At the age of eleven you were ten times as heavy as you were on the day when about you someone exclaimed, "It's a girl!" or "It's a boy!" Of course you may not be an average person, in some respects at least. Probably you wouldn't care to be. Are you twenty times your birth weight now?

In case you were an average baby, your length at birth was about 20 inches, just two inches more than half a yard, which you increased by 10 inches after working at it for a year. Three more years passed before you were twice as long (high) as when you uttered your first cry. At birth your stomach held about one ounce; six ounces six months later. Bones you had when born numbered about 270.

Twice As Much Brawn

You have now only about twice as much brawn as you had when you were born, and your brain at present is no bigger than it was when you were seven or eight years old. And those eye-balls of yours, big and round, had their present size when you were eighteen months of age. Believe it or not, Page the eminent child psychologist, Dr. John E. Anderson of Minnesota university, page 14, "Happy Childhood."

And here is what he says about your senses when you were very, very young:

Infant Reaction To Stimulus

"At birth or shortly after, the infant is able to react to sensory stimulation. Within a few hours he will turn from the dark to the light half of the room; by the end of the first day, he will fixate on a spot of light. In two months he will be able to follow a moving object with his eyes, and in nine months he will discriminate objects in the visual field with accuracy. Because of the infant's inability to speak, it is difficult to determine the moment at which he first distinguishes color, but there is evidence that even at the age of nine months some sensitivity to color is present. There is clear indication that by the age of two years color discrimination is present."

"Shortly after birth infants react to heat and cold and to pressure or pain. There is also evidence of reaction to taste and smell from birth onward."

Government Nurses Might Ease Shortage Many On Federal Payroll Could Be Used Nineteen Generals Reside At Fort Myer

By HELEN ENSARY (Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—There is a possibility that the desperate need for more nurses may be eased slightly without the help of the proposed law to draft nurses. So say several well-informed Washington physicians. There are in the capital hundreds of nurses whose daily services are not urgently needed by the organizations which keep them on a payroll.

First among these organizations are the United States government buildings. Here about 250 trained nurses are employed under federal supervision and according to the rulings of the Civil Service. Certainly some nurses are needed where many people work. The question in the minds of the physicians—"Are they needed as badly there as on the battle lines?" And "Could not the first aid rooms of many United States government buildings be staffed adequately with fewer nurses?"

In many of these buildings the nurses have little to do except treat an occasional headache or swab out a sore throat.

Perhaps, so several physicians have told me, such treatment could be administered by a first aid assistant or a nurse's aid.

Nurses In Many Places

In addition to the nurses in the United States government buildings there are the nurses in the District of Columbia offices, the Public Health Services and the Visiting Nurses' association. The figures for all these branches were not available yesterday. But added to the number of federal nurses they obviously might make a surprisingly large total. Many conservative Washington physicians believe that enough nurses could be safely withdrawn from this group, plus the group in large department stores, to supply the needs of the day-at-home Washington public.

This step would free many of the nurses now nursing in local hospitals and private homes to give their particularly experienced services to war sufferers.

A nursing situation similar to the one in Washington exists in many other parts of the country, physicians declare. If such loopholes and waste of nursing power are closed, and they are, there will be no risk to the health of the people in the individual communities, the war nurse crisis will be greatly lessened.

Incidentally, Washington medical people are proudly calling attention to the fact that despite the shortage of physicians and nurses, the health record of the capital is higher than at any time in the history of the district.

The failure of sufficient volunteers to fill the nursing needs of the war, in my personal opinion, may be the result of glamorization of the newer fields of war service for women.

Marshall's Dog 4-F

I shall now end today's sermon and it's tempo with an anecdote or two about generals. You probably don't know it but there are living at Fort Myer Va. within the United States Army reservation, a total of 19 generals. Nineteen generals! Think of the gold stars you are likely to come upon in a three-minute stroll inside the enclosure.

Naturally, with such a congestion of rank there are not enough general's houses for the generals. Several generals have to live in colonels' and captains' and even in lieutenants' quarters.

I really started out to tell the story of Fleet, the Dalmatian hound of Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States Army and highest ranking Army officer. When the war began General Marshall decided that his hound should do his bit for victory. So he enlisted Fleet in the (Cannae) Corps. There Fleet was put through the training all modern United States dog warriors receive in preparation for travel to the battlefields.

At last Fleet has had a sniff of a battlefield. Instead he has been rejected as a member of the Canine Corps. His trainers said he wasn't mean enough to fight.

It is possible, so General Marshall's friends say, that like many people Fleet feels better when the general is nearby.

Fleet might have been a better warrior if he had fought near his master. Anyhow, the Dalmatian runs off from his Fort Myer home whenever the general is away. He is found hours later across the river in Washington looking for the boss!

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

"Any suggestion that the race track mob will enlist its energies in the war effort is laughed off. That is a paragraph of a column on Travel and Resorts in which the writer speaks of the effect of the horse racing ban on Florida."

In my opinion such a statement is very narrow-minded.

No one should condemn a whole group just because that particular group happens to be engaged in a business of which he does not approve.

I am not going to give you my idea about horse-racing.

All I know is that when I was a youngster, I used to bet on the races and I found out pretty early in life that it is a game you cannot beat.

And yet, aren't there others in the horse racing business besides bookmakers?

Aren't there the breeders and the groomers and the jockeys and the men who others who functions in the business are perfectly legitimate?

I agree that horse-racing is non-essential during a war. I agree that many of the men in it should be at the front or in war industry and that the space taken up by them and the hangers-on on trains and in hotels should be used for more urgent needs.

But why say the "horse-racing mob" won't do anything for the war effort?

What Do We Do?

When you come right down to it what do many of us do for the war effort?

I believe that a man can be a patriot no matter in what business he is engaged.

I have said it before and I say it again—the great majority of us do not select our vocation but drift into it.

So many people seem to think that certain jobs are easy.

I think every one of them has its worries, its work, its heart ache, its sweat and its tears. Never know how close you will be fixed tomorrow? Would you like to be a night club proprietor always on the alert for a brawl or for a run-in with the police?

Do you think the burglar has an easy job, or the hold-up man? Would you like to be in his shoes? Would you like to be a gambler? Never know how close you will be fixed tomorrow? Would you like to be a night club proprietor always on the alert for a brawl or for a run-in with the police?

For Petes sake, don't think I am advising you to let your boy be a burglar or a racketeer tout or a night club proprietor.

But I do say that each human being is responsible for his own errors and his own shortcomings.

You have a right to be your brother's keeper when he is in need, but you have no right to be his judge. There is a greater power than yours who will attend to that.

Of all the letters I get none made me so mad as the one I received from a woman the other day who wrote:

"I do not believe in condemning people but in teaching them. And then she used up three pages to tell me what is wrong with me."

I do not believe in condemning people nor in teaching them.

All I want is to understand them.

LUZON, Philippines—Gen. Douglas MacArthur: "Every possible strategic and tactical ingenuity is being successfully employed to hold our losses to an absolute minimum."

EUROPEAN WAR THEATER—Maj. Gen. Paul B. Hawley, surgeon general of ETO, in plea for more army nurses: "What the people at home must realize is whether they are going to stand for this shortage of nurses to care for our wounded American boys. If you are indifferent, nothing will be done."

Fred Shea, Arkansas City banker, has looked over the so-called simplified Federal income tax form and pronounces it little, if any, better than its predecessor. On To Berlin

In the light of the sweeping gains made by the Russian armies it is no wonder at all that there is panic in Germany and that "on to Berlin" is the cry chanted in unison by the joyous citizens of Moscow. The Soviet's greatest victory and the most stunning defeat that Nazi arms have suffered in the five years of the war are in the very air.

The world has never seen anything quite like the present blitzkrieg. In 1939 and 1940 the Germans moved fast in their march through the smaller states of Europe and seemed to be on their way to a complete conquest of the continent. But their advance was at the expense of countries which were not prepared to fight back and many of whose citizens were not unwilling to fall in with Hitler's plans for a new social and economic order.

This time the Soviet is overcoming a first class military power with millions of experienced and well equipped soldiers trying to hold the line. That it is meeting with such amazing success is one of the military miracles of history.

Considering the progress they have made since their new offensive began and considering also the vast force they have in the field, who will predict that they will not reach their great objective within a comparatively short period?

Japan Will Be Invaded

Premier Koiso was not kidding when he told the 86th session of the Imperial Diet that "the enemy may attempt to invade our land" and that Japan was "on the dividing line between survival and death" and faced "with the gravest period since the outbreak of the Greater Asia War. Japan has become so shadowed by the approach of invasion that Premier Koiso's statement is a mere reiteration of the obvious."

Somewhat curious, therefore, was Koiso's conclusion that while the war situation did "not necessarily warrant optimism, I am convinced now is the time for us to grasp victory." If there ever was a time for Japan to grasp victory it was right after Pearl Harbor when Japanese invasion was a menace to America, rather than now when the whole picture of the war in the Pacific has been reversed, with America bringing the offensive back to Japan's very doors.

In a sense, the invasion of Japan has begun, for American air power is engaged in relentless attack on the Japanese islands, singling out vital military and industrial targets day after day for systematic demolition. As the network of island reconquest draws closer to Japan, more and more air bases become available to American forces for the prospective invasion.

Doubtless, Japan can and will offer resistance with its large reserves of powerful ground forces in a fanatically protracted struggle, but superior American air and sea power have made it impossible for the Japanese to foreland invasion.

It is possible that Allied strategy for final and complete defeat of Japan may have to contend with enemy entrenchment in the vast strongholds of Manchuria and Korea, a development that might materially prolong the war. But that prospect does not alter the fact that Japan is hopelessly committed to a program of desperate defense without the slightest chance of "grasping victory," despite Koiso's hopeful suggestion.

The imperial Land of the Rising Sun now is a land of lost horizons.

Postwar Highway Needs

Interesting predictions concerning postwar employment and highway development were made in the annual meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers at New York City. Hal H. Hale, executive secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials, said that highway and street improvements planned for immediate postwar construction will provide continuous employment for more than a million men for at least three years.

It was estimated that 600,000 men will be needed on construction and 400,000 for maintenance. Mr. Hale said the cost of projects currently proposed to restore the nation's roads and prepare them for an expected increase in traffic when restrictions on pleasure driving are removed, is estimated at $8,281,000,000.

Mr. Hale recalled that legislation already has been enacted providing $100,000,000 to be apportioned by the federal government for conducting surveys and preparing plans for the postwar highway construction program. It is in the planning of new highways that imagination must be brought into play consonant with the traffic needs of the future.

The years after the war should see a tremendous spurt in the manufacture and sale of new automobiles, and as the industry gets back into stride, important developments involving greater safety and increased speed may be anticipated. Many cities are in need of through express highways.

The halt in highway construction will have proved a boon if future planning looks far enough ahead, its thinking influenced as little as possible by present problems.

Social Security Plan Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON

Copyright—1945—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.

BABSON

We hear much from Washington about "the need for more manpower," and hear even more from labor about the "need for higher wages." Perhaps both are needed; but government officials and labor leaders are making a big mistake to do so much talking about it. Why? Here is my answer: Such talk is driving employers to install more and more labor saving machines and processes which may add chaos to confusion after the war.

Pay Envelopes Have Big Leak
Let me explain: Readers are continually asking the reason for the deductions on their pay envelopes. One came in to me this morning from a single person getting $30 per week with four pay envelope deductions:

1 per cent social security
1 per cent unemployment insurance (collected from employees in only a few states but from employer in all)
13.7-10 per cent for income taxes
16.2-3 per cent for U. S. saving bond purchases.

All of these took about ten dollars out of his pay envelope. The last item was partly voluntary and this bond purchase can be redeemed at any time but the other three are compulsory and make big leaks in all pay envelopes.

Of the three compulsory deductions to your pay, the income tax money you can kiss good-by. That is your contribution to the war and surely it is very small compared to what our boys in the service are paying in blood and sweat. The social security payment is to give you "10 to 56 dollars" per month (depending on years of employment) when you get too old to work, plus a worker's benefit for wife when she is 65 years of age; while the unemployment insurance is to give you from two to 30 dollars a week, depending upon state in which you reside for the first weeks of your next period of unemployment to be caused by the labor saving machines and processes which employers are now being forced to install.

Uncle Sam's Credit Good

Because some reports claim that Uncle Sam is spending your social security payments for current expenses instead of investing the money or "saving it up" as an insurance company would do, some people are fearful. They are afraid that when they get old or become unemployed, Uncle Sam or the state will not have the money "in reserve" to pay the promised benefits. Don't let any insurance salesman scare you with such foolish talk. The U. S. Treasury is investing your weekly payments in government bonds or their equivalent which is the very best investment any insurance company ever made with your money.

When you deposit money in a savings bank, the bank does not lock your money in its vault and wait until you want to draw it out. The bank loans it to some one to build a house or do something else—or the bank itself may use it to buy government bonds! In this case the money is being treated just the same as your social security money is being treated. As to how much your social security money will buy—in food, clothing and shelter—when you get old is another question. This depends upon how long the war lasts and the post-war inflation. There, however, is nothing to fear from the argument that "the federal government has no reserve funds" for you.

Both State and Federal Funds Needed

One more thing:—Because the present social security rate of 1 per cent now provides "more than enough money" to meet all requirements, it probably, nevertheless, should be increased immediately after the war to 2 per cent. This would be according to the advice of expert insurance statistical authorities. The fact that the states now have a reserve of five billion dollars for unemployment, etc., is no reason why we should suspend payments to the federal fund. Unless our school committees now wake up to prevent postwar unemployment, state unemployment funds may be insufficient to take care of you during the next depression!

Miss Kisselburgh sent the university a bank draft more than 27 years ago, but for some reason it did not reach here. As a result of a recent legal notice in an Albany newspaper listing the credit to Cornell, the money was forwarded.

Can Totals Down Due To Weather

Only 31,000 Tin Cans Collected During Week By Public School Children

Tin can collections were off somewhat in the elementary schools of New Castle this week. After boosting collections to nearly 50,000 a week ago, the total number reported today was only slightly above 31,000. No doubt the weather can be blamed for the slump. Pupils find it very difficult to get to school these days loaded down with a few hundred cans.

West Side and Arthur McGill handed in the best reports in their respective sections with McGill the leader for total cans collected. For individual honors, Louise Drake of Thaddeus Stevens was high in the city with her collection of 630; eight-year-old Richard Galeone of Rose avenue turned in 320.

Another carload of cans will be shipped from New Castle to the destination plant at Neville Island on Saturday, February 3. Below are school standings for the week:

Request Extension Of Inspection Period

State police stationed here have not received any word of an extension of time for the inspection of cars which are supposed to be inspected before February 1.

Various organizations have appealed to the Department of Revenue, Bureau of Vehicles for an extension in view of weather conditions since December 11.

Many motorists having been unable to take their cars from garages and because of inspection stations being so busy.

Operators are supposed also to have new operator's licenses February 1.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(By International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—Members of general assembly appropriations committees do not expect to make many changes in the overall sum for Pennsylvania colleges and universities recommended by Gov. Edward Martin. . . . decreased war time enrollments have been reflected by declining revenues while fixed costs of all institutions have remained substantially the same. . . . the governor has agreed to substantial increases in individual allocations but has quietly served notice on college and university officials to "explore their own resources" in order to assure their independence.

Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D) Allegheny has sponsored a bill which would make it necessary for party officials to make public the records of loans and how and when they were repaid. . . . the measure admittedly was aimed at the Republicans who have enjoyed the financial support of such tycoons as former Sen. Joseph Grundy, of Bristol, and Joseph N. Pew, Jr., of Philadelphia. . . . Holland introduced a similar proposal during the 1943 session shortly after he had been retired from congress.

A report filed with the assembly by four associations was regarded as the signal for an intensive effort by officials to obtain a sizable share of the revenue turned into the commonwealth from the liquid fuels tax. . . . the associations of boroughs, township supervisors, township commissioners and the league of third class cities compiled statistics purporting to show that total assessed valuations in 1942 in the commonwealth were only $64,000,000 below the $7416,000,000 recorded twenty years earlier. . . . "total assessed valuations are just where they were after the last war," the report stated. "But what a difference in services rendered by local governments in serving the automobile. . . . it was pointed out that paved roads, traffic equipment and police services had resulted from the use of automobiles while the cost was paid by taxes on real estate. . . . "but real estate revenues have not been supplemented from automotive revenue in cities, boroughs and first class townships," the report asserted.

The Pennsylvania state education association has thrown support behind the state school commission's recommendation for equalized state allocations to school districts. . . . pointing out that state contributions range from seven to 70 per cent—depending upon the financial security of individual districts—the association asserted equalization would assure minimum educational standards for all pupils. . . . the "falls far short of providing, in many districts of the state, the amount of cash needed to operate an acceptable program of schools unless excessive rates are imposed on real estate."

Seek Increase In Price Of Butter To Meet Shortage

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Top Washington production and price control officials were urged today to relieve the critical butter shortage through revision of industry and price controls.

In telegraphic appeals, the overall butter industry committee sought government aid in easing shortages which, the committee declared, will limit consumption in 1945 to a single pat of butter a day for each person in the country.

After an emergency committee meeting at which it was pointed out that butter supplies declined in 1944 in the face of increased butter fats, the committee asked for "immediate action" to relieve the crisis. The committee, representing butter plants from coast to coast, described the shortage as "the worst on record" and advocated in its appeal to government agencies:

1. Increasing the base price of butter by six cents a pound.
2. Increasing the production payment on butter fat sold for butter. Owen M. Richards, manager of the American Dairy Association said:

"America has 28 million dairy cows, more than ever before. Last year five million dairy farms produced as much milk as in the record year of 1942. That means more butterfat than ever. Yet there's less butter."

"To get more butter, raise the return to the producers of butter."

SEEK OBSERVANCE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Support of municipal law enforcement officials to obtain compliance with the fuel-conservation "brown-out" order today was sought by electric utilities companies in the War Production Board's Pittsburgh district, at the request of the Office of War Utilities.

C. C. Morrison, district WPB manager, said a considerable savings of coal can be effected if theater owners, store owners and others will voluntarily curtail their use of electricity now instead of waiting until the order becomes effective February 1.

The "brownout" order prohibits use of electricity for specified types of outdoor signs and decorative lighting.

Bretton Woods Agreement Will Reach Congress

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The Bretton Woods agreement for post-war international monetary stabilization will probably be submitted to congress next week for ratification, it was disclosed today.

"The necessary legislation will probably be introduced within a week in the house and senate," said Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R) Mich., ranking minority member of the house banking and currency committee and a member of the American delegation to the Bretton Woods, N. H., conference last July, which was attended by 44 nations.

It was expected that identical bills would be sponsored in congress by Sen. Wagner (D) N. Y., and Rep. Spence (D) Ky., chairmen of the senate and house banking and currency committees, respectively.

The state and treasury departments will submit their suggestions within the next few days, said Wolcott, and there will then be whipped into shape and introduced in both houses.

Local Soldier With Battery Which Fires Its 100,000th Round

WITH THE 36TH FIELD ARTILLERY BATTALION, of the Seventh Army Front—Pfc. Anthony Costa, 1702 Moravia street, was one of the men of the "B" Battery of the 36th Field Artillery Battalion of the Seventh Army in France, which has the honor of firing the battalion's 100,000th round of heavy artillery into Fortress Germany recently.

This battalion, which fired its first round during the Tunisian campaign on Christmas eve, 1942, has taken part in the Tunisian, Sicilian, Italian and French campaigns.

Mechanics Overcome By Monoxide Fumes

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—Four Pittsburgh mechanics today were recovering from carbon monoxide fumes inhaled while they were repairing a truck in Oakland. Francis Devlin, 38, and Frank Lauletta, 26, were taken to a hospital, while J. T. Cunningham, 37, and Ted Hartman, 32, were treated at the garage, police said.

Installation At St. John's Banquet

Sodalists Have Annual Installation At The Castleton At Banquet Thursday

Sodalists of St. John the Baptist church held their installation banquet Thursday evening at The Castleton, with 22 being present.

A delicious dinner was served at 6 o'clock, and places were marked with religious favors, a miniature statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Rev. Fr. Vincent O'Donnell gave the invocation.

Perfect Elizabeth Beshero welcomed the group, and turned the meeting to Rev. Fr. Elias G. Nader, spiritual director.

Officers installed were: prefect, Elizabeth Beshero; vice prefect, Ann

Gabriel; treasurer, Sophie Moses, and secretary, Louise Jimm. Committee chairmen, Our Lady's, Nancy Beshero; eucharistic, Mary Ann Joseph; apostolic, Sarah Gabriel; Catholic Truth, Sadie Gabriel; publicity, Emeline Joseph; social life, Virginia Gabriel.

Special guests in addition to Father Nader, were Father O'Donnell and Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso. They gave brief remarks commending the excellent work of the Sodalists and expressing the wish for continued success.

A special setting was arranged on this occasion, with fresh flowers surrounding the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary, flanked with candles. The songs, "Mother Be-loved" and "Mary Help Our Valiant Soldiers," were sung, and dedicated to the boys in the service.

Much credit for the event is due to the moderator of the Sodality, Sister Mary Edna, of the New Castle hospital.

Southern farmers used 28.9 per cent more lime in 1943 than in '42—the largest increase in the U. S. except for the mid-Atlantic states.

London newspapers are now flown to Egypt in RAF transports, arriving there the same day as they are printed.

A uniform set of definitions, covering quality of aircraft parts and materials, is now available to air-frame manufacturers.

Seized Records In Local Case Decision Basis

Right Of Search And Seizure Of Records By O.P.A. Upheld
By Court

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—OPA enforcement officials today proceeded on the theory, supported by a court decision, that they have the right to search and seize any records of suspected price violators, kept in accordance with the 1942 emergency price control act, without issuing a warrant or subpoena.

This announcement was made as the Office of Price Administration accepted Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker's decision as carte blanche authority to proceed unfettered in their quest for evidence. Judge Schoonmaker held, in the case of the OPA vs. Stitzinger Brothers Lumber company, New Castle, that any record which the law requires to be kept "is a quasi-public record and that constitutional immunities do not apply to such records."

Stitzinger brothers had moved to suppress evidence obtained by the OPA on grounds that it had been obtained in violation of their constitutional safeguards against illegal search and seizure. The petition to suppress was filed in connection with a $34,567.05 treble damage claim filed against the New Castle firm by the OPA.

OPA officials said that the jurist "held that the records of this (Stitzinger Brothers) firm were kept under the requirements of the emergency price control act of 1942 and that, therefore, no constitutional rights of defendants have been violated."

The OPA seized the Stitzinger records without a subpoena.

TWO ARE KILLED IN ALLEGHENY CO.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Allegheny county coroner's office today reported that a McKeesport girl and a Wall boy died from injuries received in accidents.

Arlene Wodzinski of Crawford village, McKeesport, was pronounced dead upon arrival at a hospital after she was struck by a truck driven by John Rusinko of Duquesne, authorities reported.

Raymond Leandowski, 11, of Wall, died in a physician's office of a fractured skull received when he coasted against the rear of an automobile driven by James F. Finley, police said.

DeMILLE KEEPS UP HIS BATTLE

Refuses To Yield In Battle With American Federation Of Radio
Artists Over Assessment

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Cecil B. DeMille's Monday night radio show, on the air for years, was at an end today as the screen and radio producer refused to yield in his battle with the American Federation of Radio Artists.

He prepared to carry his case to the state supreme court and in selecting that course he gave up his radio program until there is a final court decision in the matter.

He abandoned a position that paid him $98,200 a year over a $1 assessment levied by A.F.R.A., the radio artists' union which has a closed shop contract with the network over which DeMille broadcast.

The producer was suspended by the union for refusing to pay the assessment and he may not return to the air until he has restored himself to good standing or until the higher court rules that the union had no right to levy the assessment or that the producer's rights as a voter had not been infringed upon.

DeMille plans an appeal from Judge Wilson's decision within the next few days.

TENTATIVE BUDGET

County Controller Andrew M. Dodds has presented a tentative budget to the county commissioners for their consideration. The budget is being studied by the commissioners and action will be had upon it within a short time it was anticipated.

The budget, as drawn, calls for 3 1-2 mills, an increase of one mill for general purposes. This levy would not include any money put into a capital reserve fund, if the commissioners favored this plan. In such a case the millage would have to be higher.

The estimated receipts for 1945 are $467,501.01 and estimated expenditures of $451,781, which would leave an unexpended balance of $15,720.01 if the estimates held good. In the estimated receipts are shown $218,750 from a levy of 3 1-2 mills on an assessed valuation of $62,500,000. Twenty per cent is deducted from this for non-collection which leaves a net of $175,000. The occupational levy of 3 1-2 mills upon an assessment of $4,000,000 shows a net of $14,000 after an estimated non-collection is deducted. Personal property tax collections of four mills on $12,000,000 shows an estimated net of $40,800. Fines and forfeits are estimated at $10,300, departmental earnings at $34,500 and sales and miscellaneous at $16,500.

DOG LICENSES

Dog licenses are moving slowly. Thus far less than 700 have been sold due to something or other. Dog owners can ask for their dog tags by mail if they wish. Enclose a check for $1.13 if the dog is a male and $2.13 if the dog is a female. The extra three cents is for return postage. Kennel licenses are not in as yet.

EIGHT NOTARIES

Commissions for notaries public are beginning to arrive. On Wednesday of this week eight were recorded in the office of the register and recorder.

that clothing is the only item which is out of control. The OPA and the War Production Board, however, are cooperating in demanding a better quality of clothing at a stabilized price which will be put into effect as soon as possible.

Grocery prices are fairly stabilized, as are restaurant prices in this district. Of 147 restaurants checked in a survey just completed by the local board, only eleven were in violation of price ceilings, and only eight had failed to post their ceiling price lists.

Good Attendance Marks Conference

State Sabbath School Official Speaks At Gathering At Epworth Church Thursday

Despite the weather, good attendance and interest greeted the conference-rally of the County Sunday School association which was held at the Epworth Methodist church Thursday.

Ira S. Sassaman, adult superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School association, brought an inspiring message on "Christ Calls Today's Youth", for both adults and young people at the evening session, and the devotional meditation was in charge of Dr. G. S. Bennett. Rev. G. R. D. Braun extended greetings from the entertaining church and the song service was in charge of Rev. Oliver W. Hurst. Mrs. Paul D. Weller sang a solo. The evening session closed with a Friendship Circle in charge of Rev. A. M. Stevenson.

Attendance recognition was given at the evening session, and every district of the county was represented. Special recognition was given New Wilmington, New Castle and Pulaski districts. For New Castle Sunday schools this was as follows: Third U.P. and First Baptist led first place, Epworth Methodist was second, First Christian third and First Presbyterian fourth. At this session, appreciation was extended to the minister and the others of Epworth church, also to the ladies of the church who served such a splendid dinner.

At the afternoon session there was a discussion of the coming Pre-Easter increase campaign, the Mission to Christian teachers of this state, and Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton, told what was being done in New Castle schools to meet the requirement of state law that the effects of alcohol be taught in the public schools of the state.

A discussion of what was being done to build up Christian morale on the home and war fronts, was taken up, and especially the ways the Sunday schools were keeping contact with the soldiers.

Mr. Sassaman then spoke on adult class programs, following which there were reports from county department superintendents and district officers. The remainder of the afternoon session was taken up with sound motion pictures, "It is the Brain that Counts" and "The Pay Off", and an "Open Forum Discussion" period led by Mr. Sassaman.

Announce Result Of Employees Vote In Western Union

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—A nationwide poll of the Western Union Telegraph company's 55,000 workers today gave the American Federation of Labor collective bargaining rights in six out of seven areas.

The Congress of Industrial Organizations was the winner in the Greater New York area with a vote of 2,959 against the AFL's 1,333. Total vote in the other six districts, where AFL majorities ranged from 2 to 1 to 5 to 1, was AFL 20,449, and CIO 10,824.

The National Labor Relations board conducted the election earlier this month for some 19,000 Western Union offices in 5,000 communities. The poll was one of the largest ever undertaken by the board.

Building Work Low During Year

Construction in the city in 1944, cost $195,130, according to statistics compiled by Neil Williams, clerk to the city's building bureau. Of this amount $43,875 was for remodeling and $4,255, was for repairs. Most construction was during August when the cost was $95,010.

Building of dwellings was at its lowest ebb, only four having been erected and the highest price for any one was $5,500, built in October. One garage started in April represented an outlay of $30,000. One office building at a cost of $75,000, was started in August.

TINY CLUES AID IN BIGGEST CASES

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—(INS)—The ability to see an oak in an acorn is the way the Federal Bureau of Investigation's laboratory technique has been described by some criminologists.

Dust from a shoe, dirt in a pants cuff or saliva on the end of a cigarette, insignificant in themselves, when turned over to the laboratory in Washington, D. C., have resulted in some of the most spectacular cases of crime solution in the intermountain area, Jay C. Newman, FBI director in Salt Lake City, declares.

Fire Damage To Philadelphia Club

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Fire broke out today in the Elks club in central Philadelphia and raged unchecked through the three-story landmark as firemen battled the gale-fanned flames in sub-freezing temperatures.

Heavy damage was believed to have been caused as flames virtually destroyed all the contents of the second floor, where the blaze originated. No one was reported injured.

The building was soon covered by a sheet of ice, despite the intense heat of the flames, as firemen poured tons of water on the blazing structure from a score of hoses. Seven employees of an engraving company's plant in an adjoining building were routed as wind-borne embers menaced surrounding structures.

After this the entire school marched to put their dimes into the boxes, singing various patriotic songs as they went.

GIVES DIME BOOST

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Officials of the march of dimes campaign said today they knew nothing about an unidentified man, clad only in shorts, a thin shirt and running shoes, who gave the drive some free advertising yesterday by jogging through Times Square while the mercury stood at only 10 above.

A sign on his shirt read: "Join the march of dimes."

A program in support of the drive, which was to have been held in Times Square, was called off—because of the extreme cold.

FIGHT INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Anti-Wallace Senators Assert He Cannot Win

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Leaders in the senatorial fight against former Vice-President Henry A. Wallace today claimed enough to prevent his confirmation as secretary of commerce if gigantic loan agencies are retained in the department.

They claimed a greater majority for the bill of Sen. Walter D. George (D. Ga.), which would divorce the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and its vast subsidiaries from the commerce department.

A split developed in the ranks of foes of Wallace, with the result that the exact character of the battle was undetermined.

One group wanted to pass the divorce bill and then confirm Wallace as secretary of commerce. In this post he would supervise the "old line" divisions such as the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce and civil aeronautics.

Another group wanted to meet the issue head-on—to defeat Wallace for confirmation for both the commerce post and supervision of lending agencies.

"Can't Be Confirmed"

Sen. Albert B. Chandler (D. Ky.), who has declined to reveal his opinion, said that the course of the fight "is up in the air."

"Word was received that the house would not pass the George bill, that it is against it," he said. "This may mean a straight-out fight on Wallace's nomination."

"On the basis of what I hear, I don't think he could be confirmed."

The senate commerce committee, which failed to act on the George bill in a secret session late yesterday, was called into session again this afternoon at which it was expected that the measure will be acted upon.

A leading Wallace foe said that only three Republicans had said they would support the nominee. They are Sens. Langer, North Dakota; Ball, Minnesota, and Aiken, Vermont.

48 Against Wallace

The same source reported that two or three other Republicans might support him, but that 14 to 18 Democrats would oppose him. Alirey, he said, there are 48 sure votes against Wallace.

Wallace apparently had failed to make converts during his more than four hours of testimony yesterday in which he said he would use the vast lending powers of the RFC to help carry out a full employment program.

Sens. Millard Tydings and George Radcliffe, Maryland Democrats, swung their support to the George bill to take the lending agencies from Wallace.

"With all due respect to Mr. Wallace, I do not believe he has any banking experience or banking qualifications," said Tydings. "I therefore think it unwise and indeed unfair to Mr. Wallace to ask him to assume a responsibility in which he has had little or no training."

The national businessmen's committee for Wallace, with an initial roster of more than 100 members, meanwhile, endorsed the Iowan, asserting "we are for Wallace all the way."

Trinity Laymen's League Program

Samuel J. Rashid Addresses Trinity Church Men's League On 'Mesopotamia'

Regular monthly meeting of the Laymen's League of Trinity Episcopal church was held in the guild room of the church on Wednesday evening.

Samuel J. Rashid, speaker of the evening, was introduced by Ellis G. Diefenderfer. Mr. Rashid spoke on the Mesopotamian people, citing their history, culture and religious development, and the importance of a better understanding of these nations as a means to world security.

Otto Pearsall, president, pointed out that the Laymen's League embraces all men of the church and expressed the hope that they would take an active part in its affairs.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served, and bridge and other games were in play.

If your enamel coffee pot stains, you can remove the stain by rubbing it off with a paste of common baking soda and water.

RECORD EXPENDITURE
CHICAGO.—(INS)—An advertising expenditure of approximately $160,000,000 in the first year of unrestricted production and sale of automobiles after the war is predicted by Joseph W. Frazer, chairman of the Graham-Paige Motors corp. Frazer told Chicago advertising men that his estimate was based on the projected manufacture of 6,500,000 motor vehicles in the first 12 months of unlimited output and represents a 30 per cent increase over the record-breaking outlay of 1941.

IT'S SCENT THAT COUNTS
PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—It doesn't matter to a British merchant seaman if his fur vest is made of mink or ermine. What counts is how it's scented. When the ladies of the country generously donated their fur coats to protect seagoing men from icy blasts, the alluring fragrance of perfume was left on the fur. The men have decided preferences to scent. Now as brawny seamen pass, there comes a heady whiff of "Tabu", the tantalizing sweetness of "White Shoulders" or daring "My Sin".

Child Day Care Centers Increase

Western Pennsylvania Seeing Rapid Expansion In Business Of Keeping Children

By Mary M. McAffee
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Management of children's day care centers in Western Pennsylvania today has grown from small volunteer groups to a well-organized, federal-aided program.

According to Mrs. Henrietta W. Buck, director of the day care office in Pittsburgh, organizations in most cities at present are under the joint sponsorship of the office of civilian defense and the federation of social agencies.

Heavy Expansion

In Allegheny county there are 13 day care centers, seven of them for children of the pre-school age, six of school age, and one that takes children from two years of age until they are out of primary school, Mrs. Buck said, adding:

"These centers are equipped to care for at least 500 children. Plans for expansion whenever the need arises have been made."

There are also centers in Erie and Meadville.

The director explained that any mother may leave her children at a center while she works "if she is employed three days a week or more in bona fide employment." Three dollars a week is paid per child for under school age children and $1.50 per child for school age ones, Mrs. Buck said. She explained this money helps to defray the expense of feeding the children.

Need Will Be Greater

Mrs. Buck predicted that the need for day care will be increased greatly and expansion will take place as more women go into industry as the result of the heavy manpower shortage in Western Pennsylvania. Most communities are ready to take care of the additional children when the time comes, she said.

Health is an important part of the program, she explained. Every morning all the children are thoroughly examined before the mothers leave and sick children are excluded. If a child should become ill during the day there is a special isolation room for him and a doctor is called in.

Mrs. Buck pointed out that during the infantile paralysis epidemic last summer, "Not one case was reported in the centers, and they were kept open as usual."

The centers are open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. six days a week and all the teachers are paid, but at the present time, she stated, volunteers are again being recruited to help the regular teachers because of the long hours.

Auto Production Slow After War

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Restoration of automobile production after the war "will be gradual and peak volume to meet unprecedented demand probably will not be available until at least the second year after Germany is defeated," the National Association of Manufacturers at Cincinnati was told Thursday.

In a network broadcast, Ward M. Canaday, chairman of Willys-Overland Motors, pointed out it will take time "to reconvert motor vehicle plants for peacetime production."

Canaday predicted the automobile industry will employ 10 million persons in the first full year of unrestricted production, an estimate based on an output of six million units.

Stimson Promises Increased Pressure On Western Front

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Secretary of War Stimson promised increased Allied pressure against the Nazi western front to aid the rapid Russian drive from the east.

"All along this front the Nazi must now again anticipate a mounting pressure from the west linked with the sweeping push of the Russians on the east," Stimson told his news conference.

"With the re-taking of St. Vith following upon the fall of Wiltz, the last important bases seized by the enemy in his December drive are in our hands."

The war secretary maintained the Germans gained only "a momentary respite" from the Allied offensive by their bulge into Belgium. Nazi losses were severe, he said—"substantially higher losses than came to us."

Seek To Halt Swiss Trade With Germans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Lauchlin Currie, administrative assistant to President Roosevelt, is being sent to Switzerland in an effort to put an end to that country's trade with Germany, it was disclosed by the state department today.

This move represents the latest in a series of efforts by the United States to cut off shipments of strategic materials from neutral European countries to Germany. Switzerland is the last country to be put under pressure for this purpose, and it presents the most difficult problem because of being contiguous to Germany. No other neutral country can ship goods overland to Germany.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Lyle V. Peck, an army air force technician stationed at the Millville airbase, froze to death Thursday when he slipped on the gangplank and fell into the bay at the Ventnor boatworks. His next of kin, the army said, lives at 1448 Welton St., Denver, Col.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Petro, R. D. 6, Roosevelt street, received a telegram from the War Department, stating that their son, Pvt. Michael Petro, was slightly wounded in action in Belgium on December 26.

Pvt. Petro, who is now in a hospital in England, is attached to the 82nd Airborne Division of the Infantry.

He has served for 23 months in the armed forces, and overseas since June 1944. The telegram was received from the adjutant general's office.

Restrict Deliveries Of Coal To Homes

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Western Pennsylvania dealers today shut off deliveries to families with more than two weeks' supply of coal.

The move, the dealers said, was to combat a coal shortage that has emptied bins in hundreds of homes and threatens many more.

Drivers were instructed to inspect coal bins and call their respective offices if more than a 14-day supply is found. In some instances, dealers said, drivers have rushed emergency loads to homes only to find enough coal there "to last until spring."

Homes with new babies or severe illness are getting priority on deliveries through efforts of the Red Cross and physicians.

BUSINESS GAINS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Moderate gains in originating shipments and a substantial increase in the volume of trade boosted the index of business in the Pittsburgh district nearly four points last week, the Bureau of Business Research, University of Pittsburgh, today announced.

The seasonally adjusted index of business last week stood at 178.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average, the bureau stated.

Steel mill operations declined slightly last week, no change was reported in the number of active blast furnaces and bituminous coal tonnage declined moderately, the research group said.

Wife Is Again Suing Jack Oakie

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Jack Oakies, divorced once, were heading toward another one today.

Mrs. Oakie, the former Venita Varden of the screen, filed suit, accusing the comedian of mental cruelty.

She was granted an interlocutory decree in 1938, but they reconciled before the divorce became final.

She indicated that this time the divorce would be carried through to a conclusion. Attorneys are working out a property settlement.

Community Chest Directors Hear Complete Report

Completed reports of the 1944 United War Fund and Community Chest drive, which were given at a meeting of the Community Chest board of directors in The Castleton hotel Thursday evening, showed an increase from the unofficial reports of over $132,000 to $133,004, according to Charles Matthews, president of the board.

Because some of the directors were unable to attend, the election of officers was postponed until a future meeting.

Nab German Spies In Bogota, Columbia

BOGOTA, Columbia, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Three men described as German spies have been captured in Medellin, Columbia, and officials said today that names of two of the men indicated they were espionage agents mentioned in a warning last week by U. S. FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

Hoover said that the agents had been sent from training in Holland with orders to enter the United States.

Names of the three men captured at Medellin were listed as Hans Zuehlendorf, Christian Johannes Schmehmann and Harold Gustav Karl Zuehlendorf.

The first two names were on Hoover's list.

The FBI chief had called upon U. S. citizens to be on the alert for the German agents.

Reorganization Of State Departments Being Proposed

State Charities Association Urges Changes In Welfare And Public Assistance

By JAMES H. SMITH
(N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 26.—Reorganization of the health, welfare and public assistance departments to eliminate "inefficiencies" coupled with the establishment of a "department of corrections" was proposed to Gov. Edward Martin today by the Pennsylvania Public Charities Association.

The organization recommended that the legislature merge the welfare and public assistance departments, set up the new agency, and rename the other departments of health and mental health.

The suggested changes were made by a 40-member committee headed by Judge Nochem S. Winnet of the Philadelphia municipal court, following a six months' analysis of the operation of the departments.

"Our recommendations in no way can be interpreted as critical of any department or bureau head or of any administrator holding office in the departments we examined," Winnet said.

"Our proposals for changes result from the obvious overlapping and inefficiencies in many of the offices we studied," he added.

"It is our conviction that new legislation in line with our proposals will insure more economical government and most certainly more effective and more human ministrations for the unfortunate thousands who are charges of the state," Winnet stated.

The association report emphasized that while no criticism was leveled at department executives, "the weaknesses were chargeable to out-moded laws and systems, duplication of services and unexpected increases in certain responsibilities."

The association's program faced an uncertain future in the wake of Governor Martin's demand for decentralization of state government. During the 1943 session, assemblymen sidetracked a proposal to merge the welfare and public assistance departments.

Winnet said the committee limited its survey to the state services concerned with welfare, assistance, health, mental health and corrections. No biennial appropriations were set forth to carry out the changes.

Demands Allied Plans For Postwar German Treatment

LONDON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Immediate statement of Allied plans for post-war treatment of Germany was demanded Thursday in the house of lords by Lord Templewood, former British ambassador in Madrid.

He said he was disturbed by recent political developments. "The new pattern seems gradually to be taking place in Europe," he said. "Very different from what some of us contemplated two or three years ago and differing in material aspects from principals of the Atlantic charter."

Burglary Ring Is Investigated

VAN NUYS, Cal., Jan. 26.—(INS)—The possible existence of a burglary ring extending from Los Angeles to Seattle was investigated by police Thursday.

The probe was touched off by the arrest of Myron D. Smith, 45, a horse breeder, and Michael Haddy, 43, a rancher, in connection with the looting of the San Fernando Valley homes of movie industry figures of $200,000 in jewels, furs and other valuables during the last three months.

The two men were held on charges of receiving stolen property. Seattle entered the picture when part of the loot was traced to that city.

Hotel Owners Are Getting Peeved

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Hotel patrons who have been playing the law of averages by making reservations at several places to insure accommodations were warned Thursday that hotelmen were tired of the custom and were taking steps to end it.

James A. McCarthy, secretary of the Hotel Association of New York City, Inc., said the custom had been aggravating the room shortage, and that the hotels frequently found themselves holding reservations for which no one appeared.

He said the association is taking steps to combat the habit, but refused to reveal any of the details.

WOULD PROHIBIT DOGS

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26.—(INS)—The "blaze" of the Roosevelt burned in the Ohio legislature Thursday.

Rep. Benjamin Turner, Republican, of Pomeroy, introduced a resolution memorializing congress "to assure members of the armed forces plane priorities over dogs regardless of the master's name."

Rep. Guy Hawley Republican, of Greenville, introduced a bill to prohibit the transportation of dogs by airplane, other than seeing eye dogs, under penalty of a fine of $500 to $1,000 to the airplane operator.

Bitter fighting is in progress for Posen, the official statement said.

In East Prussia, also, it admitted fierce Russian pressure upon the weary defenders.

In discussing the western front, the communique acknowledged heavy fighting against the British Second army around Heinsberg and with the American Third army in Luxembourg. The U. S. Seventh army was said to have gained ground in the Haguenau region during heavy counter-attacks.

Uncle Sam's Print Shop Now Busier Than Ever Before

Last Year Marked Eighty-Fourth Anniversary Of Government Printing Office

The U. S. Government Printing office once the "subject of general discussion, strife and even quarrels in both Houses of Congress," is now busier than in all its history. Last year, 1944, marked the 84th anniversary of the Government Printing office and no doubt the year brought some of the biggest jobs in the printing industry to the office.

Other dates ending in "4" are important in the history of the Government Printing office. For instance the first appropriation was made for government printing in 1794, a law of awarding work to the lowest bidder was inaugurated in 1804 and in 1874 the plan of the president appointing the Public Printer was instituted.

In 1860, Congress purchased of Cornelius Wendell his printing establishment for the sum of $135,000. This became the nucleus of the present mammoth establishment. Wendell's plant had done the government printing under contract for some years previous to that time.

Prior to 1794 the printing of the various departments of government was paid for by them respectively. In 1801 a proposal was presented to Congress for the appointment of a Government Printer but this legislation failed. In 1804 Congress did take action to award the printing to the lowest bidder and the government work was carried on in that manner for many years. In 1819 it was suggested in Congress that a Government Printer be established but the motion failed to carry. Under a compromise, however, each branch of Congress was given the right to appoint its own printer.

As might be expected, this led to a patronage scramble and the use of such patronage became so flagrant that a widespread investigation was ordered in the House of Representatives in 1828 with the result that there were wholesale reforms.

In the hopes of establishing some economy, the system of contract printing was re-instituted but it was deemed a failure in way of accomplishing its purpose. The first Joint Congressional committee on Printing was established in 1846. Three members from the House of Representatives and three members from the Senate were named to serve on the committee.

The Federal Government's printing needs grew so rapidly that a law was passed in 1852 providing for the appointment of a Superintendent of Public Printing, who was to supervise the work done by the printers who had been selected by each House of Congress. Naturally no one printer could handle the work and the result was a variety of styles and sizes of type and make-up.

Carbarn Casanova Reaches End Of Line

Man Who Married Eleven Women Returning To Face Bigamy Charges

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Francis Van Wie, San Francisco's carbarn of the car barn, resigned himself today to returning to the northern California city to face three counts of bigamy.

"I guess it's the end of the line," conceded the short, pudgy and bald former street car conductor who married so many women, apparently without divorcing or being divorced by any of them, that he couldn't recall all of them or just where or when he wed them.

"I'm guilty," he agreed, "but I'm ready to take it."

Van Wie, sought since his unusual matrimonial career came to light a few days ago, was arrested yesterday at a Los Angeles war plant where he was working. He was spotted by the plant's chief of police through a newspaper photograph.

The records indicate that Van Wie, in the period from 1905 to December, 1944, married 11 women, but at first he could remember only six of them. Then, after some prompting, he recalled two more.

"I always wanted a home and contentment—I guess that's why I married all the line," said the 3-foot, 2-inch, 176-pound, unmanly-looking team worker when asked for a motive for his numerous ventures into matrimony.

He said he began marrying, looking for happiness, after his third wife, Mabel Joyce, to whom he was married for 17 years, left him.

Police Chief To Face Trial Monday

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Stowe Township Police Chief William C. Duerr will go on trial next Monday on two murder and involuntary manslaughter charges growing out of the "police trap" killing of two young war workers in Kennedy township last June 10.

The case was to have been tried January 15 but was postponed when Allegheny County Assistant District Attorney William J. O'Donnell, assigned to try the case, was sent to Florida to investigate the Westwood case.

Duerr was indicted for the shooting of Edwin Schuler, 23, of McKees Rocks, and Ralph Landefeld, 27, of Kennedy township.

He testified before the coroner that he mistook the men for a pair of automobile thieves.

Capt. R. W. McClurg Is Awarded D.F.C.

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 26.—He is an extraordinary achievement as pilot of a fighter plane in the Solomon Islands area have won Marine Captain Robert W. McClurg, 24 Englewood avenue, New Castle Pa., the Distinguished Flying Cross according to Marine Corps headquarters.

While a first lieutenant between September 12 and October 22, 1943, Captain McClurg was cited by Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal acting in behalf of President Roosevelt, for attacking enemy shipping off Choiseul Island, and for his "bold courage during a fierce fighter sweep over Kailash airfield on October 17, 1943, when he destroyed a Japanese plane."

"Handicapped by motor trouble while on a bomber escort the next day, he unhesitatingly engaged two Zeros and succeeded in destroying both planes. Volunteering on a strafing mission over Kailash airfield on October 19, he plunged to dangerously low levels in the face of enemy anti-aircraft fire to attack and leave seven Japanese planes burning furiously."

Captain McClurg was commissioned a second lieutenant on December 1, 1942. His mother, Mrs. Martha McClurg, lives on Englewood avenue.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Because of the weather, the government today ordered railroads to carry no freight except war goods in most eastern states for the next three days.

POLICE GET THANKS

When police perform their duty they not always are thanked for so doing. However, in the case of a request to search for a South Side young boy missing recently from home and found later, the parents were very thankful, so today Police Chief Robert D. Hanna received for police a "thank you" from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brenneman.

To clean slightly soiled playing cards, rub them with a soft rag dipped in a solution of camphor. A very little camphor is all that is necessary.

Unlicensed Dogs Will Soon Get Ride

It will not be long until licenseless dogs caught roaming at large "will be taken for a ride."

This was learned today when Mayor John F. Haven and his council colleagues inspected a horse which the city proposes to buy to pull the dog-wagon which Young will drive.

For years he has been placing a horse around their neck and sometimes has had to drag some of them until the canines made up their minds to accept the inevitable—walk to their death.

Dogs with licenses, when caught, are returned, but dogs which do not bear a license if not called for within several days are shot.

Sees Significance In Appointment Of Lt. Gen. Ben Lear

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
(Written Especially for I.N.S.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The appointment of Lt. Gen. Ben Lear to be deputy theatre commander of the European theatre of operations is extremely significant, and is outstandingly good news.

Ben Lear is one of our finest professional general officers who has spent his entire life in preparation for his new duties. He is another of our commanders who rose to his present grade—"the hard way"—from the ranks. He has had every practical experience and the highest possible theoretical scientific training to place him among the top military commanders of the Allied nations.

Ben Lear was born in Hamilton, Canada. At the age of 18, he enlisted in the first Colorado infantry volunteers, and fought with that unit in the Philippine Islands. As a first sergeant in the assault against Manila which ended in its capture on August 13, 1898.

General Lear wears our distinguished service medal. That is the army's highest award for outstanding service to his country in time of war. He also has the silver star, given only for gallantry in action far in excess of the demands of duty.

Mexico Is Probing Fatal Plane Crash

Soviet Ambassador Oumansky, His Wife And Seven Others Killed In Crash

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 26.—(INS)—A "minute investigation" into the plane crash that killed Soviet Ambassador to Mexico Constantine A. Oumansky and eight others, including Mrs. Oumansky, was launched by Mexican military authorities today.

M. Oumansky, three of his embassy staff, and four crew members died when the military plane in which they took off for Costa Rica plunged to the ground at the end of the airport runway, burst into flame and exploded.

The possibility of sabotage was discounted by Mexican military and civilian aviation authorities, who said only the general staff knew of the ambassador's trip to present his credentials as minister to Costa Rica.

A. on Thursday afternoon when reports on legislation both state and national, and others related to the theme "What Can Be Done to Promote a Lasting Peace?" were given. The meeting was a joint one with the Legislative-Citizenship department of Woman's club. Mrs. Kenneth H. Beck presided.

Pending state legislation and a summary of Governor Martin's recommendations to the State Assembly were outlined by Mrs. Lyle Hughes. Miss Marguerite Uhl reported on legislation before the current 79th congress.

A report on labor was given by Mrs. Raymond Williams, one on the recommendations for expansion of social security that the board has made to congress, by Mrs. W. A. Confer.

Mrs. John E. Elliott outlined the international conferences that have been held in an attempt to arrive at some understanding between nations in economic spheres for post-war agreement. Miss Mary Dell Davidson spoke on "What the church woman can do to bring about lasting peace."

Mrs. Alec Samuelson, speaking on "What the club woman can do to promote lasting peace," gave a number of concrete suggestions that women can do in the community to lay the foundations for a lasting peace.

Mrs. Robert Meade Patterson, who spoke on "What I can do to promote lasting peace" from the mother's point of view, stressed that the basis of peace must be cultivated in the home, that religion and reading mothers are two big factors in developing the attitude that will make a lasting peace possible. She has prepared a list of books for mother.

February 22 meeting of the league will be an evening meeting with the theme "What is an American?" as the theme.

OBLIGING BUCK WAITED FOR DEATH

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 26.—(INS)—An obliging buck deer strolled into Oscar Loewen's orchard near Dallas and then "stayed put" while Loewen ran a fourth of a mile to get his gun and kill the sight-seing denizen of the woods. Loewen was hunting for pheasants on his farm when he saw the three-point buck in a pruned orchard. Realizing that it would be unlawful for him to fire at the deer with his shotgun, he ran to his home about 500 yards away and returned to find the buck was still there.

New Wilmington May Upset Dope And Top Wampum

Wampum Indians Have Mis-giving About Tussle At College Town Court Tonight

TWO OTHER GAMES IN LOOP TONIGHT

NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 26.—This college town used to basketball hysteria due to the Towing Titans of Westminster, will have another severe case of basketball "jitters" tonight with the great Wampum high undefeated juggernaut coached by Butler Hennon, set for a battle with the New Wilmington High Greyhounds, coached by Timmy Hutchison.

The preliminary game between the junior varsities of both schools will start at 7 o'clock, and will serve to whet the appetites of the fans for the grueling engagement that will follow on the Community House floor.

New Wilmington Ready Coach Timmy Hutchison has given his charges their final work-out and is confident that they will give an excellent account of themselves in the titanic struggle that awaits them this evening.

Wampum is headed for another Section 21 championship if the Greyhounds cannot stop them tonight. With a record of almost "two points-per-minute," Wampum will take a string of 17 straight wins in 1944 and 1945, five of them over Section 21 opponents, which includes every team in the league except New Wilmington. Wampum is entering this game with misgiving. It's going to take a mighty fine and well balanced team to scalp the Indians, and Coach Butler Hennon cannot stand a scalp.

Two Other Games All eyes in the county will be focused on New Wilmington tonight. New Wilmington can either stay in the Section 21 race for the flag or bow out of the picture, and which will it be?

Other Section 21 games tonight will be Mt. Jackson at Bessemer, and Union at East Brook. In a non-league game, Mars High will play at Shenango.

Junior Church Loop Saturday

Six games will be played in the junior church league at the "Y" on Saturday. The schedule is as follows:

Third U. P. vs Highland U. P.
First Baptist vs First Presbyterians.
St. George vs Epworth Methodist.
First Christian vs First U. P.
Trinity vs Central Presbyterians.
Croton Methodist vs Second U. P.

Three Games In League At 'Y'

Three more games will be played tonight in the Indus-Church floor league at the "Y." In the first game at 7:30 o'clock the St. George Greeks will battle the Third U. P., while in the second encounter the Alcosas meet the University Pottery. The third game will find the Epworth Methodist tussling with the First Presbyterians.

Washington High Nudges Franklin

North Hillers Have Leg On City Junior High Title; Gribble, Clark, Damaskon Stars

George Washington Junior High basketball team, defeated Ben Franklin High, 33 to 32, in a whiz-bang, nip and tuck encounter, at the Franklin High floor Thursday, to get a leg-up on the City Junior High championship.

Trailing at the half 16 to 14, the Art Alexander coached machine put on a second-half rally that bewildered the Franklinites. Led by Clark, Eugene Gribble and Spears, the North Hillers looked impressive with a clever offense as well as defense. Gribble was a big help to the winners in taking the ball off the bank-board, and controlling the Washington play. Damaskon and Calabria led the East Siders in scoring with 17 of the points between them. Clark's 14 points was high for the Washington team, the youngster showing "uncanny ability to dump in field goals from all angles."

Washington, G. A. T. Franklin, G. F. T. Clark, 1 3 5 Damaskon, 2 4 1 9 Spears, 1 2 4 8 Filena, 1 1 2 4 Gribble, 2 2 6 Clause, 2 1 3 Clark, 2 7 0 14 Cuba, 4 1 2 4 Sampson, 6 0 0 Calabria, 4 0 0 Joseph, 1 0 2

Non-scoring subs: Washington—McClure, Franklin—Lockley, Jancovic. Referee—Wes Mann. Scorer—Kelly.

Syndicate Buys New York Yanks

Report Syndicate Lays Out $2,500,000 For Vast Holdings Of Yankee Chain

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The New York Yankee baseball properties have been sold to a syndicate composed of Col. Larry MacPhail, Dan Topping and Del Webb, Phoenix, Ariz., millionaire, the New York Journal American said today.

Max Kase, the paper's sports editor, reported that the purchase price was $2,500,000 for the Yankees and all its baseball farms. The deal, Kase wrote, "was consummated yesterday" with the Manufacturer's Trust company acting as representative of the heirs to the estate of the late Col. Jacob Ruppert.

Also included in the deal was the huge Yankee stadium in New York as well as the team's ball parks in Newark and Kansas City. Other teams involved are located in Birmingham and Norfolk.

Nelson Favored In Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Eliot Nelson of Toledo again was the favorite, as he has been many times previously, as the 19th annual Texas open golf tournament began today over the Brackenridge Park course with approximately 170 pros and amateurs in the field.

The big money winner of 1944 demonstrated that he retains the keen edge on his play by turning in a 65, six under par, in a practice round yesterday and a 64 the day before.

Among the 66 pros given a chance to upset the favorite in the competition for the major share of the $5,000 prize money were Craig Wood, Harold (Jug) McSpaden, Toney Penna and perhaps the defending champion, Johnny Revolta.

Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER (International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Lee Oma, Detroit heavyweight, and Joe Baksi meet tonight in Madison Square Garden for a 10-rounder which will attract 16,000 spectators and a gate of around $75,000.

In normal times the fans would stay away from such a bout in droves—but tonight's encounter between the two floundering heavyweights was scaled at the box office to a top price of $12.

Oma, who will be 29 years old next week, has been fighting since he was able to lift a glove. Sometimes he fought under his right name, Frank Czajewski. At other times he had been known by various other handles.

He was known in some parts as Levi Omanski and elsewhere as Lee Parrish. Of more recent date he turns up as Lee Oma.

Has Peculiar Style He is a fair sort of boxer with a peculiar style which centers around his ability to keep his hands down by his side in careless unorthodox fashion without getting his brains spattered all around the premises. He is a fair puncher. Many of the wisest of boxing men pick him to win tonight's encounter despite odds of 11 to 5 favoring Baksi.

Oma is, according to the strict rules of the profession, a sort of clown, but an effective one. He failed to finish against Tami Mauriello when out of shape, then in a return encounter gave Mauriello the licking of his pugilistic life.

On that fight he comes back to the Garden against the toughest and most rugged heavyweight of the moment. Mr. Baksi has never learned to back up. His greatest weakness is an inclination to be fooled by anybody who is even half smart. That's Oma. That is why some boxing people insist that Baksi will blow this bout.

Weights 212 Pounds They say his weight edge of 212 pounds compared with 165 will make no appreciable difference. That his punch will be useless because he probably won't be able to land it and that his tough chin and body will prevent him from being knocked out but can't have anything to do with the points Oma—his name for this occasion—will pile up.

The bout is the outstanding heavyweight natural of these times. Baksi is regarded as the top man at the moment. Oma has the style and experience to make the Pennsylvanian look like a sucker—if Oma stays on his feet.

Landis Successor Ticklish Business

William Harridge, President Of American League Silent On Frick As Possibility

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Will Harridge, president of the American league, said Thursday he did not believe a new commissioner to succeed the late Kenesaw M. Landis would be elected at the meeting of major league officials in New York February 3.

"From the sentiment of our (American league) members," he said, "I doubt if there will be an election." Harridge thought there probably would be considerable discussion as to the extent of the powers of the new commissioner at the meeting, but that the officials would not want to rush into an election without taking plenty of time to discuss possible candidates.

Silent on Conference He said he knew nothing of the conference of Ford Frick, president of the National league, and Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, with Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, in Washington.

Leslie M. O'Connor, chairman of the major league advisory council, which includes Frick and Harridge, added: "So far as I know and have heard, Mr. Frick did not represent baseball nor did he act in any official capacity on behalf of the organization. No such conference ever was discussed by the advisory council nor have I heard from any club owner in that regard."

Frick has been regarded as the leading candidate for the job of baseball commissioner, left vacant by the recent death of Judge Landis. His conference with Gen. Hershey was said to be for the purpose of getting information on the prospects of continuing major league baseball this year in view of the "work or fight order."

Sinkwich Is Called For Re-Examination

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 26.—(INS)—The Clarke county draft board revealed Thursday that orders for a pre-induction re-examination have been mailed to Frankie Sinkwich in Youngstown, Ohio.

Sinkwich, former All-American football player at the University of Georgia, registered with the Clarke county board while he was in school in Athens. He has played professional football with the Detroit Lions for the past two seasons.

Frankie, married and the father of one child, holds a medical discharge from the Marine Corps and was placed in 4-F last summer because of flat feet and a heart murmur.

Sport Scribes Honor Baseball Men Who Have Given Lives

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—The late Lt. Robert Wilson, son of Phillies and Chicago Cubs' former manager Jimmy Wilson, and all other athletes who have died in the war held a standing tribute today from the Philadelphia Sporting Writer's association.

The group's annual award for the most courageous athlete of the year made at its 41st annual dinner was bestowed posthumously upon all of them last night before more than 1100 persons including a host of nationally known sportsmen.

Killed On Flight The inscription on the trophy read: "A posthumous award to all athletes who made the supreme sacrifice in the service of their country and whose courage, sportsmanship and patriotism was embodied in Lieut. Robert Wilson, U. S. Army Air Corps."

Lt. Wilson was killed while on a volunteer flight mission in India last December. The award was received for Jimmy Wilson by Dick Spalding, former Phillies outfielder and now scout for the Chicago Cubs.

Martin Marion, (Mr. shortstop) of the St. Louis Cardinals, last year's most valuable national league, was honored as the nation's "outstanding athlete" of the year.

HOUSE LEAGUE GAME In the House league at the "Y" last night the Keystone Cardinals trimmed the Cardinals 35 to 27 to lead the second half race for the loop championship. The Cardinals won the first half title Wednesday by trimming the Keystone. Starring last night were Houk and Binder.

He also told of hearing the Michigan-Ohio State football game at midnight.

Shenango Host To Mars Tonight

Shenango high school Wildcats basketball team, idle in Section 21 play tonight, will keep in trim for the rugged second half of the league season by tussling with the Mars High Planets tonight at the Shenango High floor, Coach Eddie Nahas announced.

The preliminary game will start at 7:30 o'clock and will feature the Shenango junior varsity against the Shenango Township All-Stars.

Shenango High varsity, the only team to dump New Wilmington this year, will be at full strength for the game tonight. Mars will bring a strong quintet to East New Castle. Shenango's most recent league win was last Tuesday, a 29 to 23 thriller over the fighting Union High team at Union.

Ford City will bring a seasoned team to New Castle, one that is currently tied with New Kensington and Butler in the Section I. W. P. I. A. L. race. Ford City on Tuesday nosed Butler, 29 to 28, for the first time the Butlers have dropped a loop game.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is not yet ready to announce his new starting lineup, having lost Freddy Wimer and Eddie Jackson by the diploma route.

The two vacancies on the New Castle team will be filled by either of the following boys: Billy Walls, Ray Owoc, Pete Jatak, Dick Whitaker, Fomka or Weaver.

Filling the shoes left vacant by the high-scoring Wimer and the scrappy Jackson is going to be a tough job for a couple of youngsters. Together with the loss of Wimer and Jackson, New Castle will probably be without the services of Billy Fisher, who is having a tussle with Old Man Grippe.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Freddie (Fats) Fitzsimmons, manager of the Phillies, was back in the Quaker City today following a 35,000-mile tour of the Persian Gulf Command and Africa, boasting that he's in better shape than ever before.

Travelling on a U.S.O. tour around camps in the area, Freddie lost 14 pounds and says he will take his turn on the mound this year—if necessary. Saturday, February 3, Will Tell Whether Baseball In 1945 Will Be Able To Operate

FRICK RECENTLY VISITED CAPITAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Major league baseball clubs were expected to make a clear-cut decision come Saturday, February 3rd, as to whether they'll be able to operate this year with available manpower or whether they'll simply have to shut up shop for a while.

That was the way competent observers regarded the latest remarks of Ford Frick, president of the National league, following a Washington safari by the latter. He said he gleaned much "factual information" when he visited Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director; Paul V. McNutt, war manpower commissioner and other high officials, but that all details would be reserved for the baseball meeting early next month.

Will Talk February 3 "I did not go to Washington," Frick said, "to plead the cause of baseball but to obtain factual information which I could give to my club owners. This information was given to me and I will turn it over to the club owners when they meet in joint session in New York February 3."

"They will have to decide then whether under these conditions they will be able to open the 1945 season," Frick's Washington trip prompted observers to report that baseball men felt the situation was graver than indicated on the surface. His inference that baseball might have to close down in 1945 was the first from any high major league official along those lines, and contrasted greatly with recent Washington avowals that no ban would be placed on the sport this year.

Frick, in limited discussion, also said that he doubted whether the proposed plan to recruit 17-year-olds from the American Legion baseball ranks could alleviate the situation should a critical manpower shortage grip the leagues.

Shenango Host To Mars Tonight

Shenango high school Wildcats basketball team, idle in Section 21 play tonight, will keep in trim for the rugged second half of the league season by tussling with the Mars High Planets tonight at the Shenango High floor, Coach Eddie Nahas announced.

The preliminary game will start at 7:30 o'clock and will feature the Shenango junior varsity against the Shenango Township All-Stars.

Shenango High varsity, the only team to dump New Wilmington this year, will be at full strength for the game tonight. Mars will bring a strong quintet to East New Castle. Shenango's most recent league win was last Tuesday, a 29 to 23 thriller over the fighting Union High team at Union.

Ford City will bring a seasoned team to New Castle, one that is currently tied with New Kensington and Butler in the Section I. W. P. I. A. L. race. Ford City on Tuesday nosed Butler, 29 to 28, for the first time the Butlers have dropped a loop game.

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is not yet ready to announce his new starting lineup, having lost Freddy Wimer and Eddie Jackson by the diploma route.

The two vacancies on the New Castle team will be filled by either of the following boys: Billy Walls, Ray Owoc, Pete Jatak, Dick Whitaker, Fomka or Weaver.

Filling the shoes left vacant by the high-scoring Wimer and the scrappy Jackson is going to be a tough job for a couple of youngsters. Together with the loss of Wimer and Jackson, New Castle will probably be without the services of Billy Fisher, who is having a tussle with Old Man Grippe.

'Buddy' Young Is Apprentice Seaman

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Jan. 26.—(INS)—Claude "Buddy" Young, outstanding Negro high school and college football and track star, was undergoing "boot training" at Great Lakes Naval Center today.

Young, rated the nation's fastest sprinter, was inducted into the navy yesterday as an apprentice seaman. He was a star halfback of the University of Illinois football team last year.

Both Carl Hubbell and I pitched in six games in Persia in 110-degree temperatures and it must have boiled all the soreness out of my flipper," he related.

He lauded the work of American troops, and added that the boys "are intensely interested in sports; have formed football, baseball and basketball leagues."

He also told of hearing the Michigan-Ohio State football game at midnight.

Tex Rickard Was Not Crazy, Garden Profits Climbing

Late Tex Was Ridiculed For Building Such Mammoth Place As Madison Square Garden

RECEIPTS RUN INTO MILLIONS

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—There was much dubious shaking of heads and no end of eyebrow-lifting 20 years ago when the late Tex Rickard decided to build the new Madison Square Garden and shift the scene of operations from Madison Square on the lower East Side to 50th street on the upper West Side of Manhattan.

"Where is Tex going to find enough events to make that white elephant pay?" the dubious Thomas wanted to know.

Real Show Place

Ned Irish, the current boss of the Garden, gave us the answer today. "The Garden," said Ned, "has now become one of the show places of New York and they know that it is even in the heart of Africa or the jungles of New Guinea. And it is the sports center of the world."

Last year some five million persons paid approximately ten million dollars to get into the Garden for various events and this year, despite the war, we probably will smash all records.

Dry statistics are usually anathema to everybody except a book-keeper but Ned supplied us with some that were so surprising we thought it worth while to pass them along.

Fights Pay Big
Fights last year drew around 350,000 into the Garden and the admirers of modified murder paid more than a million bucks for the privilege.

The Circus, which annually goes into the Garden, drew more than a million men, women and children and the rodeo drew more than 250,000.

Sonja Henie has drawn 300,000 who paid $750,000 to see her ice show and she is currently doing better than that.

The ice follies draw some 200,000 skating fans and the hockey games, amateur and professional, draw more than 500,000 patrons.

Basketball is one of the sensations of the sports world. These affairs never fail to pack the Garden and it is not surprising to learn that they draw 600,000 in a very short season. And at fancy prices.

Dream Come True
Amateur boxing and skating events, not usually mentioned on the sports pages draw about 100,000. Even a dog show, running only two days, draws 25,000.

Before the war, the horse show was one of the big social and sporting events but it has been laid on the shelf for duration.

Five track meets draw 65,000 and if Gunder Hagg, the swift Swede gets here in time, the meets will draw even more.

The Garden also plays host to political and labor rallies and other such non-sporting events.

If Tex Rickard was a dreamer, he certainly dreamt in dollar signs and he knew how to make them come true.

K. Pulaski To Meet Tonight

The K. Pulaski basketball team will attempt a reorganization tonight at the club on Atlantic avenue at 7:30 o'clock. It was announced. Any team desiring games can call the club any evening from 7 to 8 by calling 9175.

The following are asked to report tonight: Pewee Plonka, Al Gonet, Joe Babb, Toots Kuscharski, Peanuts Hnat, "Blazey" Telesz, Mike Budal, Gabby Kendra, Red Tabisz, Soupy Smith, J. Ostrosky, Ray Koszela, Hen Koszela, also Hince and Rillie.

Ray Winner By Technical Kayo

BOSTON, Jan. 26.—(INS)—A ninth round TKO over Henry Jones of Philadelphia gave Elmer "Violent" Ray, Los Angeles heavyweight, his 23rd straight win today. Ray was master throughout except for brief offensive flurries by Jones, who seemed content to hold on and try to last the scheduled 10 rounds.

Union High Dance Honors Group Who Leave For Service

Honoring a group of boys from the junior and senior classes who are leaving soon for service, the senior class of Union high school sponsored an army-navy dance in the high school Thursday evening for approximately 100 guests.

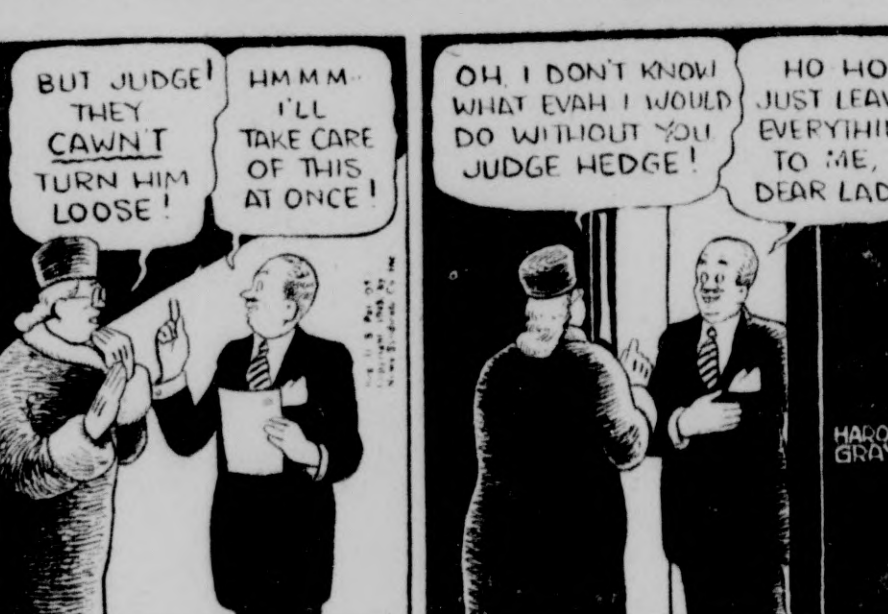

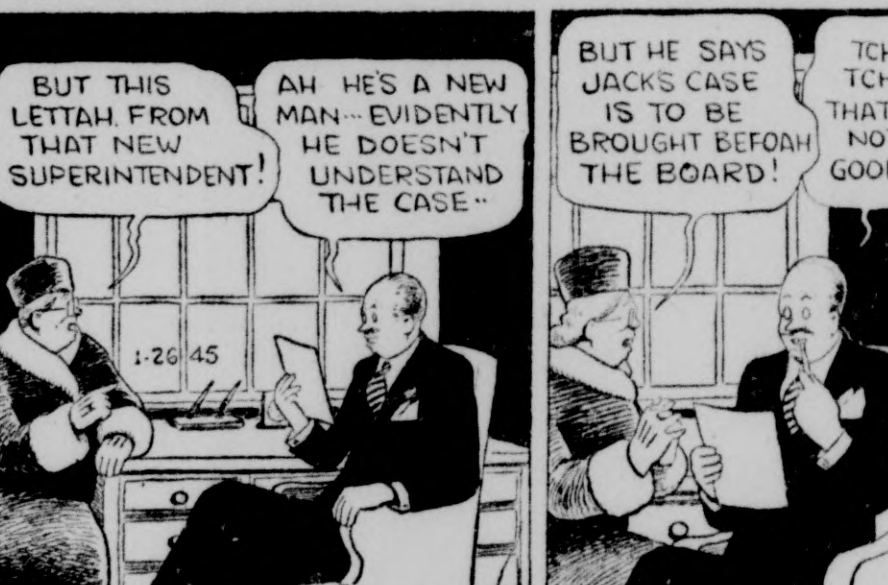

The military motif was carried out in the table decorations, which had army and navy insignia interspersed among the glassware and dishes. Group singing at the dinner was led by Donna Parks and the food was served by the Union township PTA.

Following the dinner two films on navy life were shown in the school auditorium—one showing the training of a navy flyer and the other showing the actual life. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing to music broadcast over the school's public address system.

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

(International News Service)

CREAMERY—The sun was to blame for his domestic difficulties, John Bean told a Montgomery county court. Bean had sued the community's fate "is not known."

No Slowing Down—No reports received in Moscow indicated any appreciable slowing down in the pace of Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin's great "On to Berlin" offensive.

The Germans in their desperation to prevent large-scale crossings destroyed all bridges spanning the Oder between Oppeln and Breslau and took up strong defense positions along the west bank.

As battles raged unabated all along the blazing 800-mile front and Soviet legions assaulted Breslau and closed in on Posen, Nazi-held bastion along the direct route to Berlin, the Germans offered stiffened resistance to the Soviet onslaught.

Troops of Marshal Gregory Zhukov's First White Russian army and Marshal Ivan Konev's First Ukrainian army intensified a coordinated assault along a 50-mile front in a mounting thrust aimed at Berlin from the region of Posen, 137 miles east of the Reich capital.

Soviet spearheads were officially reported within three miles of Posen, or 140 miles to the east, and the town of Morowana, nine miles north.

The official Soviet communique revealing the advance to within 140 miles of Berlin did not bear out earlier reports by the Soviet army newspaper Red Star which said that some advanced patrols were only about 125 miles from the Nazi capital.

Such things as juvenile delinquency, rather than adult parent delinquency, or neglect, declared Dr. Allen H. Moore, "If you cannot manage a child when it is four years of age, you cannot begin to manage it when it is 14," he stated.

HARRISBURG—To Mrs. Miriam Nissley, Harrisburg patriot social writer, a deadline means a deadline. Shortly after writing her daily column, Mrs. Nissley was rushed to the hospital where she gave birth to a five-pound six-ounce boy, her second son.

CHESTER—Absenteeism is a serious problem in Chester, but it apparently is confined to the high school. The school board was investigating 2900 days of unexcused absence during December, totaling a day and a half for every student enrolled.

CONNELLSVILLE—Since April 10, the Connelville Canteen has maintained a 24-hour schedule at the local railroad station and served coffee and sandwiches to traveling servicemen. The canteen is financed with contributions and operated by volunteers.

SELENSVILLE—The deerstalker cap of justice of the peace Paul Stanley had a jaunty angle after he sprung a trap on a man who was attending farm auctions and hauling equipment away without paying for it. Stanley, after checking several auctions, knew his man would attend a big one near Sellersville so all he had to do was spring the trap.

DENY REPORT—MADRID, Jan. 26.—(INS)—Reports that Nazi diplomat Franz Von Pappen was in Madrid on an undisclosed mission were officially denied today.

Possibility that Von Pappen was on a peace mission had been put forward in some quarters.

CATTLE RECEIPTS SOAR—OGDEN, Utah.—(INS)—Cattle receipts at the Ogden Union stockyards have soared to an all-time high. Increased shipments to market is occasioned by a shortage of labor on the ranches of Utah, Wyoming, Montana and Idaho.

Large and small cattle raisers are cutting down on the number of stock because of insufficient help to care for them through the winter months.

GOOD NEWS FOR KIDS—NEW YORK.—(INS)—American kids will hail with delight the return of that national institution, the all-day sucker, practically non-existent since the war. Cuban candy manufacturers plan immediate exportation of the beloved lolly-pops, as well as chocolate bars, to the United States in place of raw sugar.

CAUGHT IN OWN TRAP—HARRISBURG, Pa.—(INS)—Two policemen know what it means to be locked in the "black maria." Patrolmen G. I. Kuhn and Lester Holmes were trapped in their patrol wagon when the wind slammed the door shut while they attempted to transfer a prisoner to jail.

Surface canals and pipelines for city water supplies, being seen from airplanes, face increasing hazards with the development of bombing techniques.

A new liquid cream to be applied to the legs is being put on the market. After drying it gives the appearance of silk stockings and is practically impossible to distinguish from real silk hose.

SAILORS SEALED IN—CRANBROOK, British Columbia.—(INS)—Two U. S. sailors, AWOL from the Naval Training Station at Farragut, Ida., were rescued from a railway car, sealed when it crossed the Canadian border after three days without food or water.
